Your Eyes
are your Greatest Asset
With proper care they will remain so for the whole of your lifetime.
Very few people possess sight so good that they never need glasses.
Most people require glasses sooner or later, though it may be for totally different purposes.
Neglect in securing expert optical attention is sure to tell upon your sight.
It may not be conscious neglect, because it is impossible for you to know the exact condition of your sight, until it has been scientifically tested.
Once this is done, accurate glasses can be supplied and your "Greatest Asset" will thus be safely preserved.

Miracle of Spiritualism!

SUCCESS AND ENTIRE SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

LANCHETTE

PRICE INCLUDING POSTAGE AND PACKING

Rs. 5-8

THIS Wonderful Planchette is made of wood and is shaped like a heart. Underneath are two pantagraph wheels about two inches high. There is a hole in the so made plank of board. In this hole is fixed an ordinary pencil which is so adjusted as to form as it were, the third leg of the Planchette. In the centre of the Planchette is fixed an electrified magnetic compound having full SPIRITUAL and MESMERIC power. (This is the special pattern of Professor N. P. Kotie). The Planchette is then placed upon a sheet of white paper and two persons lay their hands lightly upon it, not in any way influencing its motion. Then one of them or a third person, asks a question, and the wheels move. The Planchette traverses the paper, and the pencil, of course, following the motion of the wheels, write, the reply very distinctly and freely. It is not necessary to ask the question aloud, a mental question is quite sufficient, and all languages are alike to the Planchette. Our Planchette is unique. Any body may use. It immediately writes the answers of the questions put to it. Every body should own a Planchette. Price Rs. 5/8 (9s. 4d.) including postage and packing.

NOTE:—Full price refunded in case our Wonderful PLANCHETTE does not work according to our advertisement.

To be had of THE MAGICAL Co., JHANSI (INDIA).

FULL PRICE REFUNDED IN CASE OF FAILURE.

Now is the time to test our Wonderful PLANCHETTE.

REMARKABLE PRESS OPINION.

The "H. Kesari," Volume II. No. 20, Thursday, October 26, :—We have received a wonderful Planchette from Prof. Kotie for Review. Really it is a wonderful pattern of prof. Kotie's invention. We are very much pleased to see its wonders. A person puts a question mentally or verbally and the Planchette moves on the paper and writes the answer neatly. Questions regarding the Past, the Present, and the Future may be put and answers obtained in any language. Anybody may send for this Planchette from the Magical Co., Jhansi, and see the wonders."

A FEW TESTIMONIALS MORE.

M. Simon Esq., of Messrs. Brown & Co., Ltd., writes from Hatton (Ceylon) on the 15th Sept. 1921:—I got one of your Planchettes from a friend of mine who came here from India. I can say that it is a very wonderful thing. During my entertainments I am in success every time with your Planchette."

I. B. Honnavarkar, Esq., of the Eastern Bank Ltd., writes from Bombay on the 23rd September, 1921:—I am glad to inform you that I am successful in getting answers from the Planchette that I bought from you recently."

One more Universal Picture by Carl Camelle

TO-NIGHT—THIS WEEK!

Presenting Frank Mayo the popular Film Star in

"The Shark Master"
(5 Reels)

Here's a romance of the South Sea, in which two castaways, a man and a woman, work out their own Salvation, proving that the decree of the heart is Stronger then the law of tradition. The heroine of this thrilling drama is May Collins, who plays the castaway girl; this charming actress, as you know is engaged to marry Charlie Chaplin.

"The Shark Master"

Miss Collins appears as a white child washed ashore on an island after a shipwreck, and reared by the natives as the Flame Flower, In the scant costume of the Tropic isles, she makes a most fascinating picture.

PIECE GOODS.

A very quiet tone has prevailed in the Cloth Market during the past week. The demand has been conspicuous by its absence. The main factor that is now taken into consideration is the course of the monsoon, and it is believed that the proper current has not yet developed. Until some good news is forthcoming from the cultivating districts, there are no chances of experiencing better enquiry. The other important factor which has been checking free business is the political activities regarding the picketting and boycott of British goods. Upcountry dealers cannot possibly make up their minds one way or the other as to which goods they should deal in. Originally they were dealing in Manchester Cloths and many of them have much so that roughly the stocks number of gradually substituted Swadeshi cloths, so much so that roughly the stocks have been equally divided between the two sources. As long as the Swadeshi goods were higher in prices to a little extent, preference had been given to the same. But now the difference ranges from 10 to 12 per cent. and as there are chances of this margin widening still further, the dealers fear that buyers will not care to pay the increased rates for the Swadeshi cloths. On the other hand upcountry merchants are afraid to stock Manchester goods, lest owing to picketting or boycott, these would be unsaleable even at the lower prices. It is also said that the buying power of the consumers has been greatly reduced for economic reasons. Capital has been locked up in stocks and shares, which can hardly be liquidated without a very heavy loss to the seller. The position of merchants here has not improved. Many of them hold high priced stocks which are unsaleable at present owing to the absence of demand, and over this they have to meet their commitments made with the Importing Firms. The course of exchange has not been favourable to the merchants and taking into consideration the interest, warehouse charges, the low rate of exchange, and the decline in the value of the goods, the proceeds can hardly come up to thirty or forty per cent. A brick demand, even at lower than current rates, would give great relief to the holders of stocks. The Importing Firms have also been handicapped to a great extent. They would have fared well had they in the beginning granted an allowance in company with the shippers. It is now fully realised that without adequate allowance and facilities most of the dealers can hardly be brought out of the difficulties, which would eventually present themselves to a larger extent to the Importing Firms and the shippers. Some of the Exchange banks are also in the same plight.

In the case of Messrs. Muller Mclean and Co. Ltd. vs. Mr. Kadirbhoy Mulla Esmailya recently decided in the High Court, judgment was given at the rate of exchange ruling on the date of the maturity of the bill and not at the date of judgment or payment. The Bombay Exchange Banks Association, who are affected by this decision, have taken up this question and addressed their sister Association in Calcutta with a view to ask Government through the Chambers of Commerce to legislate on the subject, so that post due bills drawn in foreign currencies should be payable at the rate of exchange ruling on the date of actual payment. The Bengal Chamber of Commerce suggested that the views of the members of the Associated Chambers might be ascertained, and if the Chambers agreed, the Government should be asked to legislate on the lines of the Hongkong Bills of Exchange Ordinance 1921, which reads as follows:—"Where a bill is drawn out of but payable in this Colony, and the sum payable is not expressed in the currency of this Colony, the amount of the bill if paid in this Colony and in the currency of this Colony, shall, in the absence of any express stipulation, be calculated according to the rate of exchange for sight drafts in this Colony on the day on which the bill is actually paid." Acting upon the suggestion referred above the Associated Chambers asked for the views of the Bombay Chamber of Commerce. But as the Committee of the Bombay Chamber were informed that the local Exchange Banks Association had decided to obtain the opinion of the London Exchange Banks before taking further action, the Bombay Chamber has informed the Associated Chambers that the matter might with advantage be held in obeyance pending receipt of the views of the London Exchange Banks.

On the strength of this High Court decision the merchants who have to retire overdue bills can claim from the Bank the rate of exchange ruling on the date of the maturity of the bills, as that rate would be favourable to them.

Another extra burden on the merchants has been brought about by the recent enhancement of the dock charges levied by the Bombay Port Trust without adequate notice. The Mucadum charges have also been increased owing to higher rates demanded for cartage, labour, etc. Godown rent has been very heavy as well. All this naturally adds to the cost of the goods.

The Manchester Market has been firm and steady. Some makers have obtained relief and being more independent, are showing a firm front. It is believed that ninety per cent. of the looms in Lancashire are now running at full stretch, which has strengthened the position of manufacturers. A move has been made to resume the 55½ hours' week in the cotton industry and several Rochdale firms have asked the employees to agree thereto, but they have refused and have threatened drastic action if the firms persist in their demands. As a contribution to the united effort which is considered necessary to restore the Lancashire cotton trade, the Advisory Board of the bleaching trade of Manchester have issued a circular stating that the present surcharge upon the lists of prices for all classes of bleached and coloured goods, finished prints, etc. have been reduced from 25 per cent. to 15 per cent. Fresh business has been rather difficult to place owing to the rise in prices. The quotation for 39 inches 16 by 12 Red End Grey Shirtings is about 15s./6d. F. B. H.

YARN MARKET.

June 9.

A slightly weaker tone prevailed in our market in the earlier part of the week due to easy feeling in cotton but later on improvement in cotton has changed the general tendency and rates have been steadier. Inquiries were visible in all kinds of yarns at little improved rates and some transactions have been reported.

English yarns show practically no change. 2-30s. and 2-40s. have remained quite steady and owing to scarcity of stocks for immediate delivery and good inquiry from mills, 2-40s. fetch better price. Single yarns show little improvement. 40s. and 60s. and 50s. and 70s. cops meet some inquiry but good quality is quoted at much higher price. 81-2 mercerised shows weakness whereas 64-2 has very little stock. Forward business is not possible owing to holidays in Manchester.

Japanese yarns show some improvement. Japan is quoting higher prices and fresh business has not been possible at all during this week.

Indian mills are as strong as ever and inquiries from dealers at lower rates hardly results in any large business. There has been good lot bought by Rangoon shippers during this and the last week which has brought some life in 10½s., 12½s., 14½s., etc. Calcutta inquiry for 6½s. has slackened and prices have kept steady. Demand from all centres has been visible at lower prices but much business has not been possible.

As the high priced stocks are slowly being cleared and fresh arrivals are comparatively less, we believe there is no possibility for the market to sag any further. On the other hand if cotton keeps steady and monsoon proves favourable there is all likelihood for our market to improve considerably.

BOMBAY POLICE COURTS.

CHARGED WITH THEFT.

At the Esplanade Police Court on Friday, before Mr. B. N. Athavle, acting third Presidency Magistrate, Deputy Inspector McKenna charged one Francis John (28), a Christian, with house-breaking at night and with the theft of a silver bowl, a silver salver and other articles of the collective value of Rs. 340, belonging to Mr. W. Wind, Assistant Collector of Customs.

The facts of the case, briefly stated, are that the accused, who was formerly employed as an overseer at the Public Works Department and who used to go to the Customs House, entered the complainant's house on Ballard Pier at night March 19—20 and removed the property. Thereafter, on the 20th of May, the accused went to the complainant and confessed his guilt. Immediately afterwards, the complainant sent him to the Police, who recovered a part of the stolen property.

The accused pleaded guilty to the charge.

His Worship, in convicting the accused, observed that the case before him was of an extraordinary type. The accused was a Roman Catholic and had told the court that the priest in whose presence he made his confession advised him to go and made amends to the complainant, which he did. He, therefore, thought that he ought to deal with the accused very leniently. He sentenced him to suffer one day's simple imprisonment.

INTERCEPTING TELEGRAPH MESSAGES.

FIRST ACCUSED CONVICTED.

At the Esplanade Police Court, before Mr. Frank Oliveira, Acting Chief Presidency Magistrate Inspector J. Simmons charged J. S. Pereira (24) and J. S. Burn (24), Telegraphists and R. M. Dave (30) and J. K. Dave (24) Hindoo Merchants with theft and wilfully intercepting, obtaining and making away with two telegrams and abetting one another in the commission of the offence.

Mr. Phillip Godhinho, pleader, appeared for accused No. 1; Mr. M. D'Cruz, pleader for accused No. 2 and Mr. Kampani, pleader for accused Nos. 3 and 4.

Further hearing of the case was resumed on Friday afternoon.

Mr. D. Rozeiro, Superintendent, Central Telegraph Office (recalled) said on the 29th of May last, the Police brought to him certain slips of paper. They contained extracts from telegrams despatched on certain dates. They related to the telegrams received on the 10th of May. Witness then gave evidence about the code-words used in the telegrams about cotton futures in New York.

ACCUSED 2, 3 AND 4 DISCHARGED.

After the evidence for the prosecution had been recorded the Magistrate discharged accused Nos. 2, 3 and 4 as there was not a title of evidence against them.

His Worship next charged accused No. 1 with wilfully intercepting two cablegrams under Section 26 "B" of the telegraph Act. The accused pleaded guilty to the charge.

MR. GODHINHO'S ADDRESS.

Addressing His Worship on behalf of the accused Mr. Godhinho said that in the first place had he the slightest intention that the prosecution had such details of the case, the agony of the accused would have ended very soon. So far as the accused was concerned he wished to say that he was already expelled from Government Service. His family entirely depended upon him alone. Counsel said the young man had succumbed to the temptation that was held out to him. That was his first offence and having regard to the fact that he had been in police custody for eleven days, he requested His Worship to give him an option of fine.

His Worship in delivering judgment observed that as the accused had derived no monetary benefit from the case, and was very young, he convicted him and sentenced him to pay a fine of Rs. 400 or in default to suffer rigorous imprisonment for four months.

REPORTED THEFTS.

Ganpatsing Chholusing, a Purdeshi, was on the Grant Road station on the 8th instant, when some one removed from his pocket currency notes for Rs. 1,600.

CORONER'S COURT.

DEATH FROM DROWNING.

At the Coroner's Court, Mr. A. R. King, the Coroner held an inquest touching the death of Hari Babaji, a Hindu, aged about forty, residing at Wadala. Evidence showed that the deceased was not quite right in his mind and often absented himself from the mill, where he was employed. He was missed from the mill on Tuesday last and his body was found floating in a well, near his house, on Thursday. The jury returned a verdict that the death was due to drowning but there was no evidence to show how that had occurred.

ALLEGED ASSAULT ON A BOY.

On the night of the 8th instant, at about 10 o'clock, a boy named Hamid Mahomed, aged thirteen years, employed in the "Sultan Tea Shop" at Pydhoni, owned by one Kaikhusroo Khudadad, served a customer with a slice of bread, which the customer complained, was dirty. The owner of the shop, thereupon reprimended the boy, caught him by the neck and pushed him aside. The boy immediately left the shop and went crying to the Pydhoni Police Station, where his complaint was recorded and was at once sent to the G. T. Hospital. He had a contusion of the size of an eight anna piece on the right side of his neck and he was treated and allowed to go away. In the meantime, a crowd, which was attracted by the cries of the boy, started pelting stones at the shop and the owner fearing damage to his person and property, closed it from inside. No sooner did the boy leave the Police Station than the crowd followed him to the shop, which they broke open by means of bamboo, and started looting. BOMBAY AMUSEMENT.

THEATRE AND CINEMA.

THE EXCELSIOR.—"The Quaints" continue to provide an excellent bill of fare at the Excelsior this week. Their performances during the past week have been attended with every success and they are sure of the ever-increasing patronage of the public. One specially attractive feature of the show is the frequent changes of programme. To-night and to-morrow "All Moonshine" will be staged. In this sparkling mixture of mirth and melody all the artistes will be seen at their best, and patrons of the theatre are assured of a thoroughly enjoyable entertainment. On Sunday evening there will be a special matinee at 5-30 p.m. "The Quaints" are one of the best companies who have visited Bombay for some time. The individual turns, the concerted items and the sketches reach a high standard of excellence, and Mr. E. B. Salisbury, Mr. Guy Fane and Miss Dorothy James, to mention only three names, are firm favourites at the Excelsior.

There will be the usual picture-show every evening, and this week a striking revelation of one of the most unsatisfactory features of the divorce law is demonstrated in the Excelsior Picture Programme. "Alimony" is a powerful story of human love and deception, of sordid greed and noble self-sacrifice, which will appeal to all. With Josephine Whittell and Lois Wilson in the leading parts, its instant success is assured. It shows how a woman, in order to gain a terrible revenge, plots to ruin a young wife's life, but her dastardly attempt is frustrated in time and only meets with failure. "Alimony" is a striking illustration of a great social problem.

THE EMPIRE THEATRE.—Clara Kimball Young as the "Savage Woman", in the film of that name, is the leading feature at the Empire this week. The picture is an absorbing story of how a young and beautiful girl, brought up as a savage and absolutely untamed, falls under the magic influence of love. The child of a drunken father, who dies as the result of an accident, she wanders alone in the jungle near Massowah, a French port in Abyssinia. Here she meets Jean Lerier, a Parisian, who has fled to the wilds because a woman has jilted him. Thinking to revenge himself on his faithless girl, Jean takes Renee, the savage woman, back to Paris with him. In the midst of the gay whirl of city life Renee learns that she ought to marry Lerier, but he refuses, and she flees back to Massowah. Then Lerier discovers his loss and sets out to find Renee. He is successful in his search and all ends happily. A further series of the thrilling and sensational exploits of Major Jack Allen hunting and capturing wild animals will attract all who like these adventurous incidents. In this week's episode Major Allen is seen netting a leopard. The usual topical films conclude a fine and interesting programme.

At the EMPRESS THEATRE this week further magnificent thrills are provided in the adventures of Hurricane Hutch to protect his sweetheart Nancy from the machinations of Marlow and his gang. Among many other hair raising escapades, Hutch boards his enemy's yacht by jumping on to the mast from a bridge under which the vessel passes. He is then engaged in a terrific fight, his bare fists being his only weapons, with the whole crew. Later he is pursued by Red Indians and narrowly escapes death. This film gets even better as each incident unfolds itself and none should miss this stirring tale. Other fine features include "The Hustler", a Snub Pollard comic, and the usual topical budget.

IMPERIAL CINEMA.—From to-night the concluding three episodes of the Pathe serial "The Yellow Arm." Episode 13 opens with Jack Bain being struck down by the hand of an assasin. His father Joel Bain carries the lad to the throne and declares that, as the father of the boy, he is their Prince. Joel is appointed leader of the people, who do not know that he seeks revenge on them for the death of his son. The priest makes another great effort to regain his waning power. Suzanne is his prisoner and he promises her, that, if she will appear before the people as a reincarnated Goddess, he will allow Joel Bain and his party to leave the country in safety. Suzanne consents, and in the procession through the streets, she stops talk to her lover Jerry, who is anxiously awaiting an opportunity to rescue her. This incident greatly angers the people, and a great commotion occurs. Joel Bain, with Suzanne and all his party, manage to escape during the confusion, but are hotly pursued. A great fight takes place in a mountain pass, and the finish of this serial shows the downfall of the priest, and the happy ending of all the troubles of the Bain party.

The management announce that they will, in the very near future, screen the great Indian drama "Kalidas."

THE CINEMA PRECIOUS are showing three more episodes of the Universal serial "Winners of the West." Another great feature is the screening of the third of the "Eddie Polo Series."

THE GLOBE CINEMA present "The Return of Draw Egan starring the popular Wild West hero Bill Hart.

The vast track of country on the borders of the United States of America and Mexico is overrun by a band of brigands, led by a man of striking personality, Draw Egan, who although never on the side of law and order is famed for many kindly and sympathetic actions. The Government, offering a huge price for his capture, a large band of citizens set out to attack Egan and his gang. After a severe fight the brigand chief escapes to a distant mining town, where his strong personality strikes awe into the crowds who nightly gather in the drinking saloons. The past of police marshall of the town becomes vacant and it is offered to Draw Egan, who accepts. He soon brings law and order into the town, thereby earning the hatred of the rabble. One day there arrives in the town, Arizona Joe, a one-time member of the brigand gang. Joe defies his late chief's authority, and threatens to disclose his part. For a time Joe has things all his own way, but one night he insults one of the girls in a local dancing saloon, with whom Egan has fallen in love. The marshall, regardless of his own life and honour, avenges the insult. The coward then denounces the marshall as Draw Egan the erstwhile brigand. How Egan exonerates himself, and what is the intensely dramatic ending of this most exciting picture will be seen on the screen.

This cinema is now under entirely new management and patrons are assured of every attention and care for their comfort. This house is well worth a visit.

A TAMIL DRAMATIC COMPANY

For the last time in Bombay the Sri Krishna Manohara Sabah of Poona will enact at the Baliwalla Theatre, near Grant Road, the drama "Lilavathi-Sulochana" and "Rukmangatha" (in Tamil), to-day at 4 p.m., and on Sunday, 11th June, at 9-30 p.m., respectively. Those who are anxious to hear Tamil music and see Tamilian acting should not miss this rare chance of hearing and witnessing both.

MULSHI PETHA AND MAHARASTRA.

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

With due deference to the Leaders and Workers of the Mulshi Petha Satyagraha, we beg to submit our views hereunder. It must be said at the outset:—

(1) That the Land Acquisition Act is absolutely out of date.

(2) That its application is generally obnoxious, objectionable and unjustifiable.

(3) That the Mavlas owned their lands for decades past.

(4) That these lands have been comparatively very fertile in the Deccan.

(5) That they have been looked upon by Maharashtra people as the land of their sires, and hence dear and precious to them.

(6) That the Mavlas were perfectly justified in opposing the acquisition of their ancestral lands.

(7) That they had other grounds to oppose, also.

They had before them the case of Andhra Valley Peasants, whose lands had been acquired three years before their claims were decided and settled!

(8) The Poona patriots had every reason to support the Mavlas in their Satyagraha.

(9) Even the Tata's own Representative had to admit, that the Satyagraha of 1921 was proper and justified.

(10) It seems, that the Mavlas began to sell their lands to the Tata Co., and this naturally caused disappointment amongst their ardent supporters.

(11) Obstructive tactics, were tried this year in extenso. Attempts were made to intercept the ring of Tata's labourers, and scuffles ensued, which were really unfortunate.

(12) We have not received proofs of positive and deliberate assaults made on the Mavlas by the Co.'s men; though we do know, that whenever the Mavlas tried to break through the ring of the Co's. men, they might have been hurt in the melee. We deplore this, as well as the discourteous demeanour of a Tata official towards the Representative of the "Chronicle."

(13) We denounce the conduct of the Police, that did not take down the names of the Co's men, that caused any injury to the Mavlas.

(14) We denounce the attitude of the Magistracy in passing heavy sentences on the Poona Satyagrahis.

(15) We perceive in the whole affair a subtler influence at work—an influence to create division, split and schism—an influence to damn the Tatas, who are to-day the only rivals of the White Industrialists in India! Don't we remember, how the White Bankers went, into raptures, at the "cooked" collapse of the People's Bank of Lahore?

(16) At the same time, we cannot but blame the Tata Co. for the delay in settling the claims of the Andhra Peasants, which caused so much apprehension amongst the Mavlas.

(17) We cannot but blame the Tatas for the lack of self-restraint shown by their officers at Mulshi Petta.

(18) At the same time, it must be said in all fairness, that the Tata's interest in the capital of the Nembo is hardly one and a half per cent. That the number of Mavlas that have accepted compensation is one third of the total number. That out of 48 villages, 25 will be affected; out of 40,000 acres, 13,500 will be submerged: out of these 13,500, only 3,500 acres are rice lands. That the number of Mavlas affected will be 1,634; that 1,218 of these have mortgaged their lands to the Sowcars; that nearly 500 Mavlas have accepted compensation, and that the total population—men women and children—affected by the scheme will be 5,000. Further, Dr. Phatuk, and his association declined the proposal of Mr. Babha, Tata's Representative, made through the Collector of Poona for the Mavlas to accept land for land—certainly fertile—at the nearest possible site.

(19) Both Mr. Bapat and Mr. Dashtane would not entertain any proposal for compensation or land for land. Their determination is admirable in a way. More admirable is the sacrifice of Patriots like Prof. Paranjpe, Gokhlae and others.

(20) All Indians have genuine sympathy with the Mavlas. They cannot suffer to see them in wreck and ruin. Mr. Bapat's programme of Satyagraha is unacceptable to us and to most of the followers of the great Gandhiji. We had suggested to the Working Committee to inquire into this matter; but nothing seems to have been done so far. To-day the leaders of the Maharashtra are meeting in a Conference; and we sincerely hope and trust, that the practical mind of Maharashtra will find solution of this present delicate, difficult and even dangerous position. Controversies may be left out for the present, and all energies should be centred on a neat solution. For, may we say, once again, that a subtler influence is at work round about Mulshi Petha? It is obviously planning the disruption of the Tata Co., of Indian Industry and of Indian National Unity. May the provision and prudence of the Maharashtra leaders save us from what threatens to be a national calamity! Amen.—Yours, etc.

ON THE LINE.

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—The second batch of the Editor and Printer of the "Young India" has been arrested by the Bombay Government on a charge of sedition. Mr. Qureshi was leaving Bombay Presidency for the U. P. and is thus effectively prevented from doing so, the outcome of the prosecution being undoubted. Some months ago, Colonel Wedgwood asked in the House of Commons whether it was not a fact that Sir George Lloyd was doing without arrests and prosecutions, suggesting thereby, that the arrests and prosecutions in other provinces were not inevitable. Sir George Lloyd could not bear this invidious distinction drawn in the House of Commons and has probably too much sympathy for his brother Governors to allow himself to be eulogized at their cost. The Government of Bombay, according to themselves more particularly according to Sir George Lloyd and Sir Chimanlal Setalwad, showed the greatest patience and toleration, but now must come into line with other Governments. Never mind if in humane things, Bombay Government stick to their obscurantist ways. Never mind if Mr. Hayward cannot understand the expression "Political Prisoner." The Government of Bombay must be on the same line with other Governments in arrests and prosecutions.—Yours, etc.

That the result of the perusal of these experiences would be that he who knows not what patriotism is would learn it and after doing so become a passive resister, and he who is so already, would be confirmed in his attitude. I also get more and more confirmed that he who does not know what patriotism or feeling for one's country is, does not know his true duty or religion.

THE BOMBAY CHRONICLE.
Saturday, June 10, 1922.

A MISSED OPPORTUNITY.

We have received "A Report of the Proceedings of the Bombay Representative Conference held on the 14th and 15th of January, 1922, which makes sad reading, not on account of any act o the promoters or members of the Conference, but on account of the Viceroy's curt dismissal of the proposals which the Conference worked out. It is a record of a missed opportunity such as may never occur again in the history of Indian Nationalism, and it was certainly not the fault of the Independent and Liberal—or whatever they may choose to call themselves—members of the Conference that the opportunity was missed. Except for the extraordinary behaviour of Sir Sankaran Nair, which is neither described nor elucidated in these pages, all the members loyally endeavoured to fulfil the purpose of the Conference which was to provide (as Mahatma put it) "a golden bridge between the Non-co-operators and the Government." No more telling indictment of the present regime in India could have been penned by a great satirist than this plain report of an attempt at reconciliation. Here are men who must be regarded intellectually as the pick of a highly civilised and intellectual nation, men of widely different standpoint, all unanimous in condemning the policy of an alien Government, from the standpoint of the civilisation which that Government is supposed to represent. We quote from the straightforward speech of Sir Hormasji Wadia p. 33:—

> Mr. Gandhi knows that I am a Moderate and a Liberal. I am against Non-Co-operators either violent or non-violent (Laughter). On a previous occasion, I had to speak about the position of the Liberals and I said that the Liberals had to stand, as a matter of their political duty, not between India and her freedom, but between India and Anarchy. I feel that it is our duty, in the interests of our country, to be against the Non-Co-operation propaganda. The Non-Co-operators, I honestly believe, do not deserve the support of those who wish India's welfare. We are also against the Government measures because we honestly believe that we must oppose unbridled autocracy not less than anarchy. No doubt, "law and order" must be preserved, but we cannot and must not forget that "law and order" have been the tyrant's plea in every age and in every clime, as history records in many an ugly page. They were Caesar's plea in ancient Rome, and Napoleon's in France at the beginning of the last century. They were the plea of the Bourbons and the Hapsburgs and of the Hohenzollerns and Romanoffs, in Europe, down to our own day. Law and Order are very precious things, no doubt, but there is one price they cannot claim and we may not pay. That is the price of the fundamental rights of freedom. (Hear, hear) We cannot be called upon in the name of Law and Order, to sacrifice—to surrender—freedom of speech, freedom of association and freedom of the Press. That is our quarrel with Government for its recent measures. Call it what you like, but I do say that the policy which demands from us sacrifices, which we cannot and ought not to make, is not a good policy. There is no doubt that the policy recently inaugurated and enforced demands from us the sacrifice of our inherent rights of freedom of speech, of association, of the Press, and it is therefore that we must protest against that policy."

We personally, of course, do not believe that the Liberals ever stood, or could stand, between India and anarchy. The man who stood between India and anarchy—and those of us who struggle now against anarchic tendencies are in a position to know—was the man whom the Government has thought fit to imprison for six years, the man against whose imprisonment the Liberals at their recent Conference in Bombay declined to register a word of protest! But Sir Hormusji Wadia's speech is a good speech, perhaps the best in the Report, and it shows how even a staunch Liberal was shocked by the repressive policy of Government. On the second day of the Conference Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya said (p. 64).

> "In the first resolution you express the deep resentment which the country feels, owing to the inauguration of the policy of unduly extending the Criminal Law Amendment Act and the Seditious Meetings Act. Is there a single person present in this assembly who dissents from that resolution? None dissents. I take it then that without raising your hands you express the general pervading sense of those present here."

Another point brought out in several of the speeches is the bitter disillusionment of the co-operators at finding themselves, although nominally in positions to advise the Government, impotent to check in any way a policy degrading to their country's self-respect. The Representative Conference, by collecting influential men of all opinions and addressing itself directly to Lord Reading, who is or ought to be superior to the bureaucracy, thought to fare better than the Indian Ministers and Councillors of the provincial Governments. It fared the same as we shall mention presently. For the moment our aim is to point out that for purposes of foreign propaganda on behalf of India's claims no better book than this was ever published or could be imagined. The fact that it is a true report makes it effective as no intentional propaganda could ever be. Yet the reader will be led to the irresistible conclusion that "the strongest bureaucracy in the world" is also the stupidest, and that India has been made to suffer wantonly. Most telling of all is the conclusion. After all the pains which earnest patriotic men had taken to frame certain proposals acceptable to both the independent members of the Conference and the Non-Co-operators, when those men, full of hope based upon previous utterances of His Excellency, had forwarded the said proposals to the Viceroy, His Excellency refused to entertain them, because they were substantially identical with those of the Working Committee of the Congress." evidently failing to realise that the demands of Non-Co-operation are truly (as Mahatma has so often said) the "irreducible minimum" demands of India as a nation. There is no difference of opinion among Indians as to the justice of those demands, though there is difference of opinion as to the best way of obtaining their fulfillment. The appendices to the Report are as interesting as the Report itself and from the point of view of propaganda quite as valuable. On p. 25 of the appendix there is a letter from the Private Secretary to H. E. the Viceroy to Mr. Jinnah, informing the latter gentleman (Hon. Secretary to the Conference) that an exceedingly important letter of reply to members of the Conference "has just been returned to me by the Post Office authorities as undelivered. It is very regrettable that this letter failed to reach you or one of the other Secretaries who signed the letter to which it is a reply. I hope that you will explain the facts to the persons concerned." We sympathise with the Private Secretary in his evident embarrassment. But what did he expect in British India? That incident of the letter addressed to people whom all India knew returned as undelivered to the Viceroy's Private Secretary (of all people!) by the "Post Office authorities;" and the other little incident of the electric light going out in the hall when the Conference was in full session and the speakers in the dark being unable therefore to be reported, will suggest to readers in other lands better than any diatribe of the most ardent Non-Co-operator, that from the point of view of efficiency things could hardly be worse under a Government in reality responsible to the people of India.

'TIS AN ILL-WIND.

There was a time, not many years ago, when "Sind was, so to speak, as soulless as a dead fish," and unmitigated autocracy held sway over the people. But now the situation has so altered that one an hardly recognize Sind as the same Province. The political awakening among the people is general, and the people are determined to contribute their share to the success of the national cause. The official world, given to unbridled autocracy in the past, is not disposed to treat the political malcontents gently and the prevailing atmosphere of repression has given the officials fresh opportunities for lording it over the people. We are receiving many letters from different sources, all of which tend to convince us that repression has assumed a worse shape in Sind than in many other parts of India. More than one correspondent refers to the official intolerance of independent journalism and this explains many a frivolous prosecution that has been launched against the conductors of newspapers. The Sinjhoro and Matiari tragedies opened the eyes of the public to the grave situation created in the province by the high-handed ways of the myrmidons of the bureaucracy. The reports from the jails—the Hyderabad jail notably—of the amazing rigour with which the prison code is applied, throw lurid light on the mentality of the jail officials. We have long ceased to worry ourselves about the treatment meted out to the political prisoners in the Indian jails, since the object of those who go to jails voluntarily and cheerfully is, first and last, to invite and endure all kind of sufferings in a spirit of indomitable courage and unquenchable faith in the justice of their cause. But there are cases where a failure to speak out would be harmful to the intetrests of the country. One such case is that of a young N. C. O., who in December last was convicted under one of the security clauses of the Indian penal laws and sentenced to one year's rigorous imprisonment for refusing to furnish security. During the first four months of his sojourn in the Hyderabad Central Jail, the Jail Superintendent constantly came into collision with the prisoner, who on one pretext or another, was awarded a so-called disciplinary punishment which far exceeded the term of sentence he had undergone. The following is an official statement of the jail punishments awarded to the prisoner, and it speaks more eloquently than anything that we could write upon the subject:—

> 28-12-21:—Not standing properly though repeatedly ordered, and impertinence,—Warned.
> 4-1-22:—Disobedience of warder's orders, loitering, refusing to remove blankets from over his body, refusing to stand properly. Handcuff, four days in front.

> Supdt., Central Jail, Hyderabad, Sind.

After the kind of treatment meted out to the prisoner had gone on for about four months the jail Superintendent seems to have got tired of the job, and finding "that the spell of his omnipotence was not working effectively on the prisoner," placed him before the City Magistrate of Hyderabad for trial under Section 45 of the Prisons Act for neglecting to do work given him. The case was tried inside the jail, and the Press representatives, as being inconvenient observers, were kept out. None the less it has transpired that during the trial scathing revelations of ill-treatment of the prisoners by the jail officials were made, but the Magistrate seems to have taken no notice of the serious allegations against the officials. The prisoner was convicted under Section 52 of the Prisons Act and awarded fourteen days rigorous imprisonment. The inhumanity of such treatment of a young prisoner who is not and never was a "criminal" is too clearly manifest to call for comment. In the Bombay Presidency, of which Sind still forms the tail-end, our rulers we are told, do not know the distinction between first-class demeanants and the ordinary criminals. While we may congratulate the Hon. the Home Member on his blissful ignorance of a small distinction, we cannot certainly congratulate a Government, that can, without any qualms of conscience, tolerate the kind of treatment meted out to prisoners in the Hyderabad jail—and in almost all the other jails. The obvious result of such treatment will be to strengthen the spirit of Non-Co-operation with Government in the prisoners and their numerous kith and kin. Thus "it is an ill-wind that blows nobody good."

Notes of the Day

Mr. Dayalji Desai.

Mr. Dayalji Nanubhai Desai, President of the Surat Congress Committee is one of the best known workers in Gujerat; and all those leaders of India who visited Bardoli and saw the remarkable progress made in that little taluka in carrying out the Non-co-operation programme have testified to the high moral character of Mr. Desai and the great influence that he wields among the people of the district. A staunch follower of Mahatma Gandhi, Mr. Dayalji soon after the advent of Non-co-operation changed the teacher's robe for the propagandists' khudder. In a short eighteen months he produced an awakening in Surat never before witnessed in that historical city. Meetings of twenty to thirty thousand people began to be held at Surat where Mr. Dayalji preached a consistent policy of non-violence and Hindu-Moslem unity. As a result, Hindu-Moslem unity is an accomplished fact in the district. Mr. Dayalji's social service in the cause of the well-being of the Anavil Brahmin Community covers a period of over two decades. His unsparing efforts have caused some of the worst social customs to disappear from the community. The Asram which he conducted at Surat turned out hundreds of students who cherish a deep affection for Mr. Dayalji. When the call for subscriptions to the Tilak Swaraj Fund was made to the people Mr. Desai was the first public leader to make over his entire property to the Swaraj Fund. An ideal teacher, an unsparing social worker and devoted Non-co-operator, Mr. Dayalji could not but attract the notice of the Government. The Surat Municipality was superseded and taken charge of by the Committee of Management; still the people did not stop sending their children to the national schools. The Committee attempted in vain to stifle public enthusiasm. That could not be done so long as Mr. Dayalji infused vigour and determination into the hearts of the citizens of Surat. Mr. Dayalji was asked to furnish securities of good behaviour for having made objectionable speeches in Bardoli and elsewhere. A public worker of his type could not do that consistently with his principles. Now he has been sentenced to one year's simple imprisonment. Fortunately, there are volunteers and workers in the city who will readily fill the gap caused by Mr. Dayalji's imprisonment. The Government have succeeded in removing a worker for non-violence and peace in the city whose moral influence and fervent appeals checked in the past the over-flowing enthusiasm of his followers.

A Riddle.

The following—just—comments of an Allahabad contemporary, anent the conferment of a K.C.S.I. on the Raja Sahib of Mahmudabad, are like a riddle, considering that it has constituted itself a pro-Ministerial, and therefore pro-Government, organ in the era of reforms:—

> "The Birthday Honours list is as usual loaded with official names. The distribution of honours sometimes affords a valuable clue to the policy or the mentality of Governments. Distinctions have been showered in quick succession on the Raja of Mahmudabad who appears to be a special favourite of the head of the Government of these provinces. His K.C.S.I. makes him richer in distinctions than Sir Harcourt Butler himself. The campaign of law and order has been carried on most vigorously in these provinces and the police has come in for a great deal of criticism for their high-handed proceedings in several places. The reply to all the criticism uttered in the Press and on the platform in connection with the manner in which the policy of enforcing law and maintaining order has been pursued is the bestowal of a high distinction on the Member of Government in charge of Law and Police. He has certainly earned his new title by becoming responsible for the policy of indiscriminate arrests and of giving a free hand to the police. The "nationalist" Member of Government has every reason to be proud of his achievement and we offer him our hearty congratulations on the splendid record of these provinces in the matter of wholesale arrests and imprisonments."

There is, in these comments, more than meets the eye, and the Indian public would feel grateful if someone in the know would kindly unravel the mystery of the Raja Sahib falling into disfavour with the Allahabad oracle, and whether it is due to the displeasure felt by the latter at the promotion of the Raja Sahib over the head of the Government in the realm of titledom. Or could it be that the Co-operators, like pampered children, have begun to quarrel among themselves over the allocation of the gifts—political, titular and pecuniary?

Unexpected Support.

A correspondent of the "Morning Post" has made several discoveries about the Reforms, and Reuter's Agency has cabled the result to India. Unfortunately the Indian Congress had long since anticipated the "Morning Post's" correspondent, so that the news does not come to us in India as a shock—not even as a surprise. The charges made by the "Morning Post's" clever correspondent against the Reforms, are firstly that the Reforms are much too costly. Readers are invited to refer to the 'Bombay Chronicle's" comments on the Budget and on the Inchcape Chimera to read the last word on this subject. We are told also that the provinces are outrunning their incomes—a statement made in the "Bombay Chronicle" very often since the Reforms were introduced. Then again, we are told that the affairs of the provinces "are directed by men who have no real sense of public responsibility." This is precisely what we have often said about the Moderates and the Ministers. Finally, we are assured that the "distinction between "Reserved" and "Transferred" subjects seems practically to have vanished." We concur again. All subjects today are as "Reserved" as they were in the days of the Minto-Morley arrangement. It is just possible the "Morning Post's" correspondent is not a Non-Co-operator. But his view of the Reforms is precisely the view taken by every Non-Co-operator. Support in the columns of the "Morning Post" of Indian Extremist opinion was something we thought we should never live to see.

IRISH IMPASSE.

BRITISH CAPTURE BELLEEK.

SUCCESSFUL MOVEMENT BY LAND, SEA AND AIR FORCES.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 8.

A wide converging movement, by land, sea and air forces, ended in the British capturing Belleek to-day. A force consisting of the South Staffordshires, Lincolnshires and Manchesters, supported by howitzers and numerous armoured cars, marched along both sides of Lough Erne whose waters were dotted with numerous small craft. These composed Ulster's little navy and carried stores. The reconnoitring aeroplanes reported that the town was sparsely occupied. The Verey lights showed that the British were being attacked, whereupon the artillery went into action. The Belleek fort was captured and after that, the Crown Forces occupied the town.

"PETTIGOE ATTACKS—A MISUNDERSTANDING."

Liberal papers state that the attacks on Pettigoe were due to a misunderstanding. The peculiarity of the Pettigoe-Belleek situation is that the former, though situated almost entirely in the Free State, is inhabited by the Loyalists; and Belleek is wholly within Ulster and is entirely Catholic.

COLONIAL OFFICE COMMUNIQUE,

MOTIVE OF THE OPERATIONS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 8.

The Colonial Office communique, dealing with the occupation of Belleek, says that the British advanced along both sides of Lough Erne. In view of the fire directed against the British troops, when moving inside Ulster territory, the artillery and armoured cars were employed. The Fort was occupied without opposition. The village of Belleek was also occupied. There were no enemy casualties seen. No prisoners were taken. One British soldier was slightly wounded. All is now quiet.

The operations were designed to clear the Pettigoe-Belleek triangle, and are thus completed. Unless the troops in their present positions are attacked, they will not advance further, and there is no reason for any further fighting.

The intention is to withdraw the British forces within Ulster territory as soon as they are satisfactorily assured that no repetitions of the incursions and raids are likely.

Communications, for restoring tranquility on this part of the frontier, are now being addressed to the Provisional Government.

IRISH ELECTIONS,

DUBLIN UNIVERSITY REPRESENTIVES RETURNED

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 8.

Four representatives of the Dublin University, the only candidates nominated for that constituency to the Provisional Parliament, have been declared elected. They are all formally described as Unionist. They have not attended the Dail meetings, but joined in the ratification of the Treaty in January.

DAIL ADJOURNS TILL 30TH

NEW PARLIMENT TO ASSEMBLE ON JULY 7TH.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 8.

The Dail Eireann, after a four hours' sitting in Dublin, to-day, in which no references were made to the situation as affected by the London Conferences, adjourned until June 30th.

In accordance with the agreed programme, the New Parliament assembles on July 7th.

FRANCE AND GERMAN INDEMNITY.

THE ALTERNATIVE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 8.

Paris.—The Quid quo pro which France is willing to consider for consenting to an alteration of the German indemnity payments is indicated in the newspapers as either the cancellation of France's debt to the United States, or a twenty years' suspension of the payment of the German debt without reduction of its total.

It is noteworthy that M. Delacroix is a Belgian delegate on the Reparations Commission and also Chairman of the Bankers' Committee.

1,000 REFUGEES ARRIVE IN GLASGOW

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 8.

Altogether, a thousand refugees from Ulster have so far arrived in Glasgow. They are billeted in two large halls under the care of the Catholic priests. Many are penniless.

WHITE AUSTRALIA.

THE REAL CAUSE OF BARRIER.

MR. SASTRI'S REJOINDER.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 8.

Adelaide.—At a civic reception given to Mr. Sastri, Mr. Gunn, leader of the State Labour Party, said that White Australia was not founded upon prejudice against the Indians, but he felt that the breaking down of the barrier would lead to an exploitation of the Indians. White Australia was best for both the Dominions.

Mr. Sastri, in reply, said that many were afraid of evil consequences arising from the throwing together of different races and colours, but the greatest experience on this matter was supplied by India. No country existed where so many diverse races had lived and grown together. The Brahmin community had kept their blood pure for centuries and maintained their own peculiar characteristics and dispositions. The same could be said of many other races in India.

MR. SASTRI'S UNIQUE PLEA FOR RIGHTS OF RESIDENT INDIANS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 8.

Mr. Sastri was entertained to a luncheon by the Commonwealth Clubs. Responding to the toast, Mr. Sastri referred to the unique institution of which he was a member, consisting of a number of educated Indians who were devoting themselves, entirely and exclusively, to the services for their Motherland. They took no more than poor subsistence, never beyond £80 sterling annually in India. They agreed not to cause alarm by dumping millions of their men in Australia, and they were loyally keeping their word.

Mr. Sastri again urged that the Indians already in Australia should be treated as other residents. He was glad to say that this existed in South Australia, but he pleaded with them to place their relations with the Indians on a more personal footing.

MR. SASTRI DINES WITH LT.-GOVERNOR.

Mr. Sastri visited the Y. M. C. A. in the afternoon. He dined with the Lieut.-Governor, Sir George Murray, to-night.

RUBBER INDUSTRY.

TO BE DISCUSSED AT HAGUE CONFERENCE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 7.

The Dutch Government's representative M. Dekruyfu has returned to Holland after fully discussing the position of the rubber industry with the Colonial Office. The matter will now be further considered at the Hague. Further developments are expected towards the end of June.

INCENDIARISM IN BELFAST.

ARMED MEN'S OUTRAGES.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 8.

The armed men near Cloughmills, County Antrim, took two men from their beds during night and shot them. One was fatally wounded and the other seriously.

The houses of the officers of the Order of Hibernians and other residences in Abillymilligan have been burned down. Three fires due to incendiarism broke out in Belfast during the course of last night.

BELLEEK OPERATIONS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 8.

The Belleek operations ended pretty much as was the case at pettigo. The Republicans continued firing until they tasted shell fire and only then made off for the Donegal hills. Twenty-three shells were fired of which six were direct hits on the fort which was practically destroyed. The infantry fired four hundred rounds.

GRIFFITH CONFERS WITH CHURCHILL

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 8.

Mr. Griffith conferred with Mr. Churchill and Sir Worthington-Evans at the Colonial Office to-day with a view to devising more effective measures to prevent collisions in the northern frontier.

REINFORCEMENTS ARRIVE IN DERRY.

IRREGULARS CONCENTRATE A FEW MILES AWAY.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 8.

Five hundred men of the Liverpool Regiment have arrived in Londonderry, and taken up quarters on the high ground on the Donegal side of Louch Foyle. Several thousands Irregulars are reported to have concentrated, a few miles away, and they are armed with rifles of the latest American pattern. More Irregulars are concentrated on the Northern side of the city.

PREPARATION FOR CIVIL DISOBEDIENCE

SITUATION TO BE RECONSIDERED IN AUGUST.

APPEAL TO CARRY OUT CONSTRUCTIVE PROGRAMME.

PT. MALAVIYA'S RESOLUTION ACCEPTED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LUCKNOW, June 8.

The resolution on Civil Disobedience was opened for general discussion. Sardar Sher Singh, in supporting the resolution, mentioned the atrocities committed in the Punjab against the Akali movement.

Mr. K. P. Kesava Menon, alluding to Malabar troubles, stated they were due to several causes chiefly the agrarian discontent, police oppression, ignorance of Moplahs and indiscretion of the District Magistrate. He mentioned the help rendered by Congress workers to bring about order but the Congress workers were harassed and imprisoned. He was personally aware of the allegations which Mrs Naidu had made against the Gurkhas and the police. He spoke of cases of forcible conversion, looting and arson, and mentioned that there was a great distrust between the two communities, Hindus and Mussalmans. He appealed to the leaders of the Moslem Community to restore good feelings between Hindus and Moslems.

As regards Civil Disobedience he pointed out the danger of launching it till they had a perfect organisation, and till they were disciplined.

Pandit Rambhuj Dutt Choudhury said that until a reconsideration of the programme was undertaken, the general inactivity prevailing after the Bardoli resolution would not be removed. He was of the opinion that unless the country was asked to take some strong action, popular enthusiasm would never come into play. He was for some definite action instead of passing mere resolutions.

Swami Satya Deo was for complete Civil Disobedience.

Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, in supporting the resolution, spoke on the importance of the constructive programme and the necessity of mobilisation and organisation before they marched to victory or death.

Mr. S. C. Roy wanted the people to be tested by making them personally realise the difficulties and sufferings.

The general discussion on the subject concluded, and the Committee adjourned for refreshments.

PT. MALAVIYA'S RESOLUTION.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LUCKNOW, June 9.

Informal discussions between members of the Congress Working Committee and the movers and seconders of the amendments on civil disobedience resolution lasted for about 4 hours this morning. No one except members of the All-India Congress Committee were allowed to be present. Subsequently a formal meeting of the All-India Congress Committee was held and Pandit Malaviya's amendment to the Working Committee's resolution was accepted and the resolution as finally passed reads as follows:—

"This committee records its satisfaction that although in spite of the suspension of all aggressive activities by the Congress Committee repression in a most severe form has been resorted to by Government in several parts of the country, the spirit of Congress workers has not been daunted and the constructive programme laid down by the Committee is being loyally carried out at great sacrifice in every province. The committee has taken note of the widespread feeling that in view of the extremely unfair manner in which the policy of repression is being carried out by the Government, the country should be advised to resort to some form of civil disobedience to compel the Government to abandon their present policy and to agree to concede the triple demand of the Congress; but the Committee is of opinion, that the carrying out of constructive programme will be the best preparation for even mass civil disobedience while it will, also, be the most affective means of furthering the objects of the Congress. The Committee, therefore, earnestly appeals to the country to concentrate all its efforts upon carrying out the constructive programme to the fullest extent and to endeavour to complete it within the shortest period possible; that the further consideration of the question whether civil disobedience in some form or some other measure of a similar character should be adopted should be taken up at the next meeting of the Committee to be held at Calcutta on the 15th August next; that in the mean time the president be requested to nominate and authorise a few gentlemen to tour round the country and to report on the situation to the next meeting."

The following note added to the resolution says:—"This resolution does not in any way, affect the resolution passed at Delhi on 25th February last."

All the other matters were referred to the Working Committee for disposal. The Working Committee meets to-morrow at 7 a.m.

AMENDMENTS TO CIVIL DISOBEDIENCE RESOLUTIONS.

AN INFORMAL DISCUSSION.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LUCKNOW, June 9.

The All-India Congress Committee adjourned at about 11 till 9 a.m. to-morrow.

There are six amendments on the resolution on Civil Disobedience. Some of them, sent in by Bengal, are for the forward steps to be taken immediately. At the time of adjourning, the Committee was engaged in discussing Pandit Malaviya's amendment. In view of differences between the representatives of Provinces it is proposed to have an informal discussion between the movers of amendments, and the members of the Working Committee, with a view to settlement.

Informal discussions will take place early morning to-morrow.

ADMISSION TO THE PRESS.

At to-day's meeting the All-India Congress Committee agreed on the motion of Pandit Motilal Nehru to admit representatives of the Press to the meetings subject to the condition that reports of the proceedings should be sent out only after approval by the General Secretaries. This it is stated, was the procedure followed previously; but by a resolution at the last Delhi session, the Committee had declined to admit the Press. There was keen opposition to the admission of the Press.

DISTRICT POLITICAL CONFERENCE,

CONGRATULATIONS TO MAHATMAJI.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LUCKNOW, June 9.

The District Political Conference was held here last evening, Pandit Motilal Nehru was to have presided, but as he was engaged at the All-India Congress Committee, the Panditji visited the Conference for a short time, and informed the large gathering that he would deliver his presidential address the next day.

Mr. Shaukat Ali of Lucknow, Chairman of the Reception Committee then presided. Two resolutions were passed, one congratulating Mahatma Gandhi and the other twenty-five thousand persons who were undergoing imprisonment for the cause of Swaraj and the Khilafat. The Conference believed that their sacrifice had raised the Indian in the estimation of the world. The other resolution congratulated the Lucknow District on the part it had played in a successful manner: it had resisted the onslaught of the bureaucracy in this province on the rights of citizenship and the freedom of speech.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

PERSIAN SITUATION.

KURDS DEFEAT GOVT. TROOPS.

MARAGHEN THREATENED.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 8.

Tehran.—After the occupation of Saujbulak, the Kurds pursued the defeated Government troops and took Mianduab. The Kurds now threaten Maraghen, whence the people are fleeing into Tabriz.

The Shahsevan tribe have surrounded Arsabil and are raiding the Tabriz-Mianeh road. The movement is apparently due to the dismissal of the hereditary chief of the tribe by the Governor-General of Azerbaidjan; and is also encouraged, presumably, by the reverse sustained by Government troops at Saujbulak.

RAIDS BY LURS.

The Lurs are looting villages in the Burujird area. A detachment of troops has been despatched from Tehran to restore order. The post of Governor of Luristan is usually held by a Bakhtiari chief, and as the present Governor is an outsider, the raids are being undertaken apparently with a view to forcing the Government to appoint one of their own chiefs.

TROUBLE AT SEVERAL PLACES.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

SIMLA, June 8.

Advices from Tehran, under date 6th June, represent a sorry state of affairs in Persia. The Kurds have taken Mianduab, south of Lake Urmiyah, and threaten Maraghar in the same neighbourhood. As the Turkomans are giving trouble at Astarabad on the eastern shore of the Caspian, so also are the Shahsawans near Ardebil, and the Lurs near Burujird, south of Kermanshah. Further trouble is expected in Gilan, and the Quashgai (in Fars) are fighting among themselves.

JUNGALIS ENGAGED BY GOVT. TROOPS.

MOVEMENT MAY ASSUME SERIOUS PROPORTIONS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 8.

Teheran.—Seyed Jellal and about three hundred rebels in the jungle are being engaged by the Government troops to the north-west of Resht. Seyed Jellal is one of the adherents of the late Kuchik Khan, the chief of the Jungalis who was killed last winter after many years of rebellion. The movement though small at present may assume serious proportions if not effectively crushed at the start owing to the sympathy shown to it by the Communists of Baku who rendered effective help to Kuchik Khan in the last Gilan revolution.

SOVIET EMISSARIES' RAID AT BATOUM.

VESSELS PILLAGED: PASSENGERS AND CREW ROBBED.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

SERBIAN ROYAL WEDDING.

SUDDEN THUNDERSTORM MARS FESTIVITIES.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 9.

Belgrade.—The festivities in connection with the Royal wedding were marred by a sudden thunderstorm during the marriage ceremony in the Cathedral. The service was conducted by the Patriarch who was supported by four Bishops. The ecclesiastics were clad in gorgeous vestments. Despite the weather aeroplanes ascended and attempted unsuccessfully to throw boquets of roses to the royal carriage, but the wind spoiled their efforts. Hundred thousand spectators thronging the route, however, disdained pelting rain. The Duke of York acted as the Koom or the chief witness and performed a number of traditional duties, thus when the procession departed from the Cathedral, children in accordance with custom shouted "Oh! Koom, your purse is burning", to which he responded by scattering handfuls of silver coins.

ROUND OF FESTIVITIES IN BELGRADE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 8.

Belgrade.—After a romantic river journey, escorted by monitors, the royal bride and her parents, on June 6th were welcomed here. Crowds, in picturesque Balkan costumes, massed the heights overlooking the Danube. The troops, in impressive uniforms and athletes, were drawn up on the landing stage where King Alexander with the Duke of York and other Royal personages went aboard and welcomed the Royal party amid the booming of guns and the whirr of aeroplanes.

A great round of festivities began in Belgrade, yesterday, which has never, in its history, been so crowded with famous people. The events include a race meeting the display of military horsemanship, football matches and athletics.

The Royalties were everywhere given ovation.

SITUATION IN CHINA.

A TURN TOWARDS COSMOS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 8.

Peking.—In the hope of encouraging Ex-President Li-Yuan-Hung to reassume presidency, Generals Chang-tso-lin and Tsao-Kun have intimated that the sympathise with the most excellent idea of abolishing Tuchung, who are comparable with the provincial viceroys, and their army. The Generals declare that they would set example to other Tuchung by surrendering their offices when he goes to Peking. General Wu-Pei-fu has expressed his willingness to concede armistice to Chan-Tso-Lin if the latter retires to Muklen and does not interfere with the Peking-Mukden Railway. General Wu-Pei-fu also offers to create a buffer zone.

SERIOUS SITUATION IN COALFIELDS

WAGE MANIMUM REACHED.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 8.

The Executive of the Miners' Federation has discussed in London the serious situation in the coalfields. The Secretary of the Miners' Federation, Mr. Hodges, stated that every district, with one exception, had reached the wage minimum. This was considered to be due to the irregularity in employment resulting in appealling hardships justifying the assertion that British famine had begun.

MAHARAJA OF BIKANER'S AILMENT.

NEW DISEASE DEFIES DIAGNOSIS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 8.

The "Daily Express" reports from Paris that the Maharaja of Bikaner is visiting England to undergo treatment for a strange new malady, which is attributed to germs in milk. His secretary Major Harrison says the complaint has defied diagnosis for some years but a recent blood test at the Bacteriological laboratory in Bombay revealed the source of trouble.

MONTAGU'S SILVER REPORT.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 9.

Montagu's Weekly Report says:—"For months past Chinese internal politics have really been the dominating factor in the price of silver. The contest for supremacy there perhaps less affects silver than the changing seasons do, but war operations unsettle public confidence. Hope is revived that General Wu-Pei-Su's appearance in the political arena will lead to establishment of a stable Government in which case the tendency of silver will diminish, inasmuch as the Chinese are not hoarders by nature. It will also remove hindrances to movements of crops. News has already induced Chinese exchange speculations to reverse their operations and sell silver here; hence the fairly rapid descent of prices early in the week. The market now shows a somewhat uncertain tendency owing to the fact that conflicting orders from China are often received on the same days. The Indian Bazaars are only nibbling and America is holding off supplies while the continent is a poor seller.

ERZBERGER MURDER TRIAL.

ACCUSED'S REVELATIONS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 8.

Berlin.—Frau Erzberger being indisposed has been temporarily excused from giving evidence at the trial mentioned yesterday.

Von Killinger gave information regarding the secret society called the "Consul" to which he and ex-officers Schultz and Tillessen of the two alleged absconding murderers belonged. He declared that it aimed at preventing the spread of Bolshevism in Germany, and denied that its members contemplated forcibly overthrowing the Government, or assassinating the politicians including Herr Erzberger who was unpopular owing to his role at the Armistice and the Peace Treaty. It is presumed that the Society's funds were derived from the industrial and agricultural circles.

FRIESLAND PEDIGREE CATTLE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 9.

Considerable interest has been evinced in arrival from South Africa of the Friesland pedigree cattle. This is only second occasion in the last thirty years on which imported cattle have been admitted to Britain. Eighty-three heads were auctioned at Slough yesterday and fetched a record sum of £300,000. It is understood that the Government of India has ordered a hundred Friesland bulls from South Africa which are being shipped in September.

LAHORE LETTER.

PUNJAB UNMUZZLED.

LABOUR AND AKALI MOVEMENTS.

(From our Correspondent.)

LAHORE, June 4.

The period of six months for which the districts of Lahore, Amritsar and Shaikhupura had been declared under the Seditious Meetings Act expired on the 24th May 1922, and from that moment Lahore and Amritsar began to breathe a freer air. The pent up feelings of the citizens of these big towns found expression as soon as this sharp-edged sword of Damocles was removed from over their heads. But in view of the recommendations of our oracle of the Upper Mall and his friend in the Pioneer it cannot be said with confidence that our freedom will be long-lived. Thus writes the "Civil and Military Gazette" in its recent issue:—"It is a risky experiment to make in view of the present state in the province and is impossible to view without great misgivings the prospect of a renewed outburst of abusive and inflamatory speeches." The "Pioneer" goes a step further and anticipates seditious activities from certain "revolutionary organizations" and on this plea demands the extention of the provisions of the Act for another period of six months.

But the citizens of Lahore acting upto the maxim "make hay while the sun shines" have taken the earliest opportunities of giving expression to their suppressed feelings. Lahore held a public meeting under the auspices of the local City Congress Committee on the evening of the 25th. It was attended by more than eight thousand people including about 600 ladies. Professor Ruchi Ram Sahni who presided over the meeting in his opening speech remarked that there was no justification for Lahore and other districts having been brought under the Act. According to the president the meetings that were held before the Seditious Meetings Act came into force were quite orderly and no objectionable speeches were delivered and that there was no warrant for the promulgation of the repressive laws and orders which robbed the people of their elementary rights.

The President was followed by Dr. Paras Ram Sharma, Bibi Pooran Devi M. Mohd. Sharif, D. Chaman Lal, and Sardar Hazura Singh all of whom laid strees on Khaddar and the desirability of maintaining an atmosphere of perfect non-violence under all circumstances.

The next day that is on the 26th May another meeting was held at Haveli Nakain and on the 27th and 28th also meetings were organised at which Swami Shraddhanand spoke at length on the desirability of renewing the course of untouchability.

JALLIANWALLAH BAGH MEETING.

Another mass meeting was held at Amritsar in the Jallianwala bagh on the evening of the 27th May. It was attended by thousands of ladies and gentlemen of all classes and sections of the public. Kumari Lajjawati who has gone over to Amritsar to organize the Congress work on constructive lines was the chief speaker of the evening. As usual her speech was very eloquent and well reasoned and kept the audience spell-bound throughout. She appealed to her audience to have greater regard for national honour than personal honour and remain united at all times and every moment of their life. She exherted the audience to give up ideas of conferences, deputations, resolutions and speeches which consisted of mere words and to prove to the world by their deeds and their actions that they were fit for freedom.

The meeting was followed by a Sikh Diwan at the same place where resolutions recognising the authority of the Gurdwara Prabandhak Committee in religious matters, refusing the proposed Gurdwara Bill and condemning the attitude of the Government with respect to Kirpans was passed.

ORGANIZATION OF LABOUR IN THE PUNJAB.

It will be perhaps remembered that about two years ago an union of the employees of the North Western Railway was organized by Mr. J. B. Miller an ex-guard of the same Railway. The "Gharibfauj" or the army of the poor as Mr. Miller used to call his fellow labourers became quite a potent force in a few days, and the Railway officials who at first scoffed at the movement became alarmed at the rapid success and the admirable discipline of the organized labour of the Punjab. Mr. Miller wielded great influence on his comrades and had become quite a terror to the Railway officials. A strike ensued but collapsed after a few weeks on account of its having been premature, yet the Railwaymen's Union henceforth became a living organisation with its headquarters at Lahore and branch offices in almost all the railway centres of the Punjab. It became a recognized body and its representatives were many times invited to confer with high railway officers and even members of the Railway Board as bonafide representatives of organized labour.

Mr. Miller (who is now undergoing a sentence of imprisonment on account of his alleged participation in a petty distrubance near the local Railway workshops a few months ago) did not sit idle after the collapse of the strike. He visited almost all the important Railway centres of India and organized Railway Unions, wherever he went. Strikes were declared by some of those unions but almost in every case the strikers did not succeed in getting their demands.

The movement however showed no signs of weakness inspite of the collapse of the strikes and it became quite apparent that labour in India appreciated the value of organized action. The movement progressed steadily and now another step has been taken to unite all the Railway Unions in India into a sort of federation.

A meeting of several unions was held at Delhi on the 25th May to discuss the question of the formation of a federation of Railway Unions. Representatives of B. & N. W. Ry., O. R. Ry., N. W. Ry., unions attended the meeting and the following important resolution was passed: "Resolved that the diffrent unions represented to-day strongly hold that unless a federated body exists in India we cannot make any headway towards solving the labour problems confronting the Railway Labour in India and therefore the representatives would move their respective executives and obtain necessary powers to form a federation."

Another resolution was to the effect that a formal constitution be drawn up by the representatives present in the meeting and circulated to all Railway Unions in India for suggesstions, alterations and approval so that the proposed federation may become a reality as soon as possible.

All these activities make it clear that labour in India is now wide awake and before long these unions will be as potent factors in our social life as they are in other industrially advanced countries of the world.

THE AKALI SITUATION.

The Akali situation is becoming more perplexing every day. The Government which cares more for its prestige than for anything else goes on committing errors and as a result of these errors its relations withe the Sikh community have become more strained than ever. It is well known how during the great European War the Sikh soldier fought the battles of the Empire and laid his life for a cause which he was told was just and noble. Many of us doubted the sincerity of the Sikh soldier and regarded him a mercenary giving his life for a few rupees, but now the Sikhs have proved to the hilt that they are a sincere people. As soon as they realized that the Government for whom they have been fighting in different parts of the world does not protect their rights, and interests, they have cut off their relations and offered opposition to its behests.

The Sikhs possess religious fervour, sturdy and chivalrous habits and strict discipline and it is for this reason that they succeeded in organizing themselves in so admirable a manner. The sooner the Government takes note of the determination of the Sikhs to have their own way, the better for all concerned. But strange are the ways of our prestige-loving bureaucracy. There is now talk of passing a Gurdwara Bill for the management of Sikh shrines and forcing it on the Sikhs in spite of their wishes to the contrary.

The Sikh leader Sardar Mehtab Singh, Secretary of the Gurdwara Prabandhak Committee, who was a few months back a government advocate and vice-president of the Punjab Legislative Council gave an adequate warning to the Government. The Sardar said in a big Shahidi Diwan, a meeting held in honour of the martyrdom of their sixth Guru in Lahore on the 30th May, "I would ask the Government not to make a second mistake (in passing the Gurdwara Bill). As long as the Sikhs have got beards on their faces, the Gurdwara Bill if passed without the consent of the Gurdwara Prabandhak Committee would certainly become a second Rowlatt Act. No Bill whatever can be acceptable to the Sikhs as long as the leaders of the Khalsa are in humiliation." This is indeed no empty threat though the prize-boys of the bureaucracy may so interpret it, but an expression of the considered judgment of the whole community on the question of relations between the Government and the Sikhs. Arrests, detentions and imprisonments and all other forms of repression resorted to by the Government cannot deter a hardy people like the Sikhs of the Punjab from pursuing the way they consider to be right and proper in their interests.

REVOLT BY BONDELZWART HOTTENTOTS.

SUPPRESSED AND RINGLEADERS CAPTURED.

(Reuter's Telegram.)

LONDON, June 9.

Capetown.—After several weeks the guerilla operations, in the revolt by Bondelzwart Hottentots in the South West Protectorate has been suppressed and the ringleaders and one hundred and fifty other rebels have been captured. The leader, Morrie, who fought valiantly against Germany was killed. The main grievance of the rebels appeared to concern the compulsory cattle branding which the Hottentots erroneously believed prejudiced ownership and also the dog tax. A strong force of mounted police and bombing aeroplanes were employed in the operations. Police casualties were two killed and two wounded.

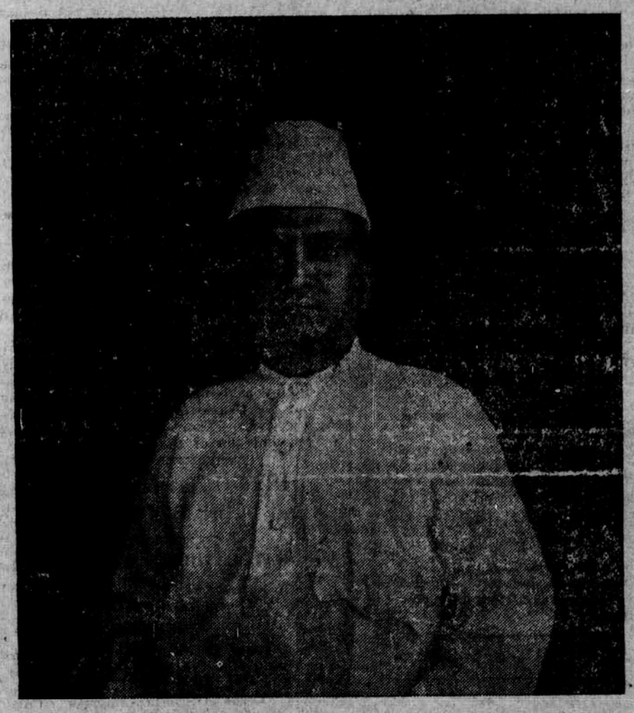
MR. DAYALJI DESAI.

A SOCIAL WORKER OF SURAT.

Who prepared Bardoli? Who brought Surat district in the forefront of this political struggle? Who entitled the little taluka to be chosen leader of a vast continent? To prepare Bardoli to satisfy the high standard laid down by Mahatma Gandhi was no small thing. It required the best efforts of a band of selfless workers who would wholeheartedly devote themselves to carrying out the items of the non-co-operation programme. When Gandhiji returned fresh from South Africa he found in Mr. Dayalji Desai an unassuming and silent worker. In course of time their intimacy became closer and Mr. Dayalji became a devotee of Mahatmaji and felt convinced that the Salvation of India was possible only by following the course laid down by Gandhiji. When the non-co-operation resolution was passed at Calcutta he, along with his two co-workers, the enthusiastic Kunverji and Kalyanji Mehta brothers threw himself heart and soul into the movement and worked with consuming passion to prepare Bardoli to Mahatma's satisfaction. He soon collected about him a number of young students and volunteers—and this did not give him much trouble because his Ashrama, the Anavil Vidyarthi Ashrama of Surat, had turned out some scores of students who cherished deep affection for Mr. Dayalji and had the highest respect for his sterling moral character. Everywhere in Bardoli he was the moving spirit, the guiding hand. So well had he trained his body to undergo physical sufferings and so marvellously had he secured the regard of Bardoli peasants that wherever he went his presence acted like a spell to dissipate all the doubts of the unsophisticated peasantry. The stout and scantily dressed Dayaljibhai soon became an ubiquitous figure in the Bardoli Taluka; and his personality came to be regarded as only second to that of the Mahatmaji in point of the esteem in which he was held by the people of the district. And this influence which he gained among the people and the weight his words acquired were not merely by chance. Mr. Dayalji's whole life is an open book to the public. He told his students over and over again that the only way to be an ideal teacher was to remove the gulf between theory and practice.

Born of poor parents in a small village in the district, he owes all his fervour of patriotism and moral courage to his brave mother who is now over 70 and still an inspiration to her son. Facing privations she brought him up and gave him a decent education. But she paid more attention to the little Dalu's moral character. "I do not mind" she would often say, "If my son remained uneducated and blunt. But I will not suffer him to be immoral and unmindful of the griefs of his fellow-brethren. He is meant to take care of suffering widows and orphaned children." What delight it must have been to the old mother to see that her son, soon after his education was over, spent his whole time in teaching little boys in his native village! The villagers at first saw in the teachings of Dayalji something which disturbed the young minds. Socrates had to suffer much because he was misunderstood. Dayalji had his fair share of suffering because he taught the little boys the lessons of social service and paid not much attention to the literary side of their education. Often I have heard him telling his students: "Literary education is a minor part of true education. Devote yourself to the service of humanity and you will have secured all the blessings of genuine education." After serving for a few years in the Revenue Department of the Government, Mr. Dayalji soon became the head of an institution of students in Surat, the Anavil Vidyarthi Ashram which became an exemplary training ground for the Anavil students. He along with his mother spent his whole day in the company of young students. He nursed them, he fed them and he taught them. All those that could not pay fees for their tuition and boarding were taught and lodged freely and to-day there are scores of orphans who look upon him as their father and guardian. He radiated moral influence all over the district. He came to be known among his pupils as "Bhai" and many of them turned up to him in their days of trouble or when the "Bhai" required them for some social service. The advent of the non-co-operation movement sounded a call—the call of the country—which Mr. Dayalji could not resist. He left the Ashrama—though his connections with it still continue—and took to propaganda work. The non-co-operating workers of the city soon realised the sound stuff of which he was made. He was offered the presidentship of the Surat Congress Committee and this honorary post he has held to the day of his incarceration. How intense is the affection and high the regard in which the local Hindus and Moslems hold this true servant of India has been unmistakably proved since he was served with a notice to furnish security. Twenty-five thousand citizens gathered round him on the river side on Monday last to hear the last message from their beloved leader. And what message this humble servant of the people would give them! "My message to you," he said, "Is to carry out the programme of Gandhiji and liberate him. Put on khadi and burn out khadi. Behave towards your Mahomedan friends as you behave towards your own brothers You will have satisfied me even behind the iron bars of the prison if you keep absolutely non-violent even at the time of greatest excitement." And the citizens followed Dayaljibhai in a procession in files of four to the District Court, where his case was coming up for hearing. Still there are people amongst us who believe that there is an impassable gulf between the Hindus and the Mahomedans; that "it is no more possible for Hindus and Musalmans to mix than oil and water." Those that witnessed the sight of the procession of thousands of people moving silently and swelling in numbers as it moved and including a great proportion of Mahomedans led by Mr. Edrus and offering Mr. Dayalji a garland at the corner of every street could not but have been moved by the spectacle and testify to the reality of Hindu-Moslem Unity.

MR. DAYALJI NANUBHAI DESAI.



President of the Surat Congress Committee and distinguished social worker who has been sentenced to a year's simple imprisonment. Mr. Desai made over his entire property to the Tilak Swaraj Fund, last year.

MR. DAYALJI'S STATEMENT.

In the course of his defence statement Mr. Dayalji said:—

I am asked to state why security should not be demanded of me for having delivered speeches affecting Sections 124A and 153 of the Penal Code. I hold an unshakeable belief in the freedom of my country. I recognise no earthly authority excepting that of the Congress representative body of my countrymen, which can arrogate to itself the power of putting me this question. I believe that no nation, however civilised it be, can lay any claim to subjugate a people of a foreign country against their will. But hypocrisy reaches its highest water mark when the bureaucracy claims the Government over the people on the plea of the well-being of this country.

We get a clear idea of our own damoralisation when such cases are being tried by Indians and when the complaints and witnesses are also Indians.

I believe that the magistracy in such cases becomes the instrument of the ever-shifting policies granted to suit the administrative exigencies.

The charge that I attempted to create ill-will between the several communities is entirely false. The very movement of Non-co-operation is founded on brotherhood and love. And I have been all the while trying to act up to these tenets. But I believe that it is the bureaucracy itself and those amongst us who are working as its instruments who are responsible in the name of the unity of the communities for creating dissensions; because their interests lie in that.

I am proud that my services are thus appreciated as an humble worker in Gujerat just after Gurudev Gandhiji and I bow to God in all gratitude; and I see in this a glimpse of the realisation of ending or mending the present system of Government from Surat itself.

MYSORE ASSEMBLY.

DEWAN ON BUDGET.

(Associated Press.)

MYSORE, June 9.

The budget session of the Mysore Representative Assembly opened in Durbar Hall when the Dewan Mr. Banerjee delivered studied address explaining at great length how every administration in the world suffered at the present moment from the excess of expenditure over revenue and how greatly Mysore had been affected by prevailing conditions. After a brief retrospective study over the past twenty years of finance, the Dewan effectively brought out how year after year dating from 1913 expenditure had been increasing progressively, how normal period of surplus of rupees fifty lakh per annum had been steadily deteriorating and how era of deficit began with decline in revenue in 1918. Estimates, for coming year, the Dewan said, anticipated total revenue and expenditure about Rs. 3,10,50,000 and Rs. 3,31,25,000 respectively thus bringing in a deficit of nearly Rs. 21 lakhs wherewith a sum of Rs. 35 lakhs had to be added to conserve mining, famine, irrigation and industrial interests resulting in total of Rs. 56 lakhs. Rigorous adoption of retrenchment policy for next three years were recommended by the Special Finance Committee. Its findings would it was anticipated bring about considerable improvements and restore financial equilibrium. Before concluding the Dewan after emphasising the need for a balanced budget deprecated the extreme views and said "Despite depressing factors that now threatened to hamper administrative progress, I shall endeavour to bring to bear on my work a spirit of robust optimism and carry the state further forward in the path of progress and prosperity."

ITALY AND BRITAIN.

SCHANZER ON NEED OF CLOSER CO-OPERATION.

(Reuter's Telegram.)

LONDON, June 8.

Rome.—In the Chamber, Sgr. Schanzer said that a closer Anglo-Italian cooperation, in Europe, the East and the Mediterranean, ought to be based on an equitable estimate of mutual interest and calm friendly scrutiny of all diplomatic questions involved. A closer Anglo-Italian solidarity, that emerged from the Genoa Conference, was being developed within the framework of an understanding with other war-time Allies, notably France, a friendship with whom they considered as one fundamental basis of their policy and an indispensable condition of the maintenance of peace in Europe.

Referring to the last meeting of the Council of the League of Nations, Sgr. Schanzer declared that the Franco-Italian delegates, without opposing Britain's mandate over Palestine, were not prepared to discuss its terms.

DIRECT ITALO-BRITISH AGREEMENT.

Pending the next meeting, Italy was endeavouring to reach a direct agreement with Britain. Negotiations would be conducted with the realisation of Britain's spirit of organisation and liberality, at the same time keeping in view the necessity of safeguarding the economic activity and cultural development of Italians.

Regarding the establishment of the Jewish National Home, Sgr. Schanzer said that despite the natural difficulties among the three religions to whom Palestine was a holy ground, Italy favoured the establishment of the Jewish National Home, while taking care that the Catholic interests were, in no way, harmed.

TOKYO LETTER.

JAPAN'S GRIP OVER SIBERIA

CIVIL WAR IN CHINA.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

TOKYO, April 28.

Since the days of the Russo-Japanese War, the Japanese Imperialists have incessantly cast their covetous glances over the vast resources of Siberia, its undeveloped mineral wealth, and extensive fishing areas. This granary of Russia and the treasurehouse of enormous hordes of buried wealth, though neglected by the effete and inefficient administration of the Tsars, had for years been the object of great ambition among the greedy nations of the world. After the great Russian debacle, the Japanese militarists lost no moment in seizing time by the forelock and talking full advantage of the turmoil in which Siberia, lying next door to Japan, had been thrown. The jingo papers while harping on the magic theory of warding off the Bolshevik danger, were in their best spirits when coaxing the Government to send an expeditionary force to Russia. The Prime Minister at the time being the late Field Marshal Count Terauchi, a militarist of the deepest die, the General Staff Office found it a smooth sailing to embark upon the project. The Japanese attitude alarmed the other powers who urged on by jealousy proposed to send a joint expedition into Siberia to which Japan reluctantly gave her consent.

Eventually the Maritime Provinces and other strategical points in Far Eastern Russia were occupied by the land and naval forces of Japan, America, England, France and Italy. The powers concerned justified the existence of their troops on Russian soil in the chaotic state of things in that country as well as facilitating the repatriation of Checko-Slovak prisoners of war. It was one of the greatest blunders of which the Allied powers can rightly be blamed of, and was in reality a bungling artifice for stifling the cries of a youthful nation hardly redeemed from her age-long bondage. The world at large knew that the so-called manifestations of good will sweetened with the honey of altruism, given out by the Allied governments, were nothing more than pretexts and subterfuges behind which to conceal the real nature of their aggressive and imperialistic designs.

The four White Powers after incurring huge expenditures and wasting hundreds of innocent lives, realised the futility of a prolonged stay and evacuated, thus leaving the ground to Japan who would not depart a hair-breadth from her original intentions which had slowly begun to show themselves in their true colours. For four long years, the Japanese have occupied the Russian territory and millions of Japanese tax-payer's hard earned Yens have been squandered and thousands of conscripted soldiers sacrificed for something, which, even the public at large does not know. The Japanese General Staff is now the laughing-stock of the people, and the inhabitants of Siberia are the avowed enemies of Japan. If a balance sheet were made, the balance will decidedly be against the Japanese Empire. In short, the rosy dreams of a great economic domination of Siberia by Japanese capitalists are still affairs of a problematical nature.

The abject failure of governmental policies and the hollowness of promises so often made by the War Office having been amply demonstrated the press and the politicians have of late been agitating for the withdrawal of Japanese troops from Siberia. Even the jingo organs are at their wits' end. Unable to withstand the onslaught of public criticism, the authorities assumed an attitude as if to placate the public opinion but the question of prestige stood in the way. However, by a concatenation of circumstances, the Japanese representatives had a conference arranged with the delegates of the Far Eastern Republic, which has its headquarters at Chita and came into existence some two years ago as the result of an amalgamation effected between the different politican bodies in Siberia. The Dairen conference, receiving its name from a flourishing town in Manchuria where it was held, protracted on for eight months to be finally brought to a disruptive end owing to the impossible Japanese demands, which if acceded, would have converted the whole Siberian territory into another Manchuria. The negotiations having been brought to a deadlock, the delegates have left for their respective countries and the Japanese government once more finds herself on the horns of a dilemma.

Double Diplomacy.

But the double diplomacy in this country is a thing from which there is no escape so long as the soldiers are in the ascendancy in the councils of the Empire. Undaunted by any sort of criticism, the War Office immediately after the Dairen Conference being broken, have ordered the despatch of new troops to relieve those whose term of service is at an end. This means the stationing of Japanese forces in Siberia for an indefinite period. Lieut.-General Ono, Vice-Minister of War, advances the plea that if withdrawal is effected without proper guarantees being received from the Chita Government, the Japanese interests in Siberia will be greatly jeopardised and the lives and property of some seven to eight hundred Japanese over there, will be endangered. But one should like to know by what process of reasoning can the Vice-Minister of War justify the stationing of seventy to eighty thousand soldiers for the protection of a few hundred Japanese, a majority of whom are there, supplying the needs of the Japanese forces, and shall have to leave voluntarily upon a general withdrawal.

The cabinet is between the devil and the deep sea. Sandwitched as it is between the ire of public opinion and the awe of the powerful influences behind the throne, it has not yet found a way out of the impass in which it has been placed. The air is thick with rumours of a change of Cabinet and the straws are also not lacking to show which way the wind is blowing. The echoes of Genoa Conference are making themselves heard in this part of the globe too. It is generally believed that if the Soviet Representatives there come out with flying colours, the hands of the Chita authorities will be greatly strengthened, thus widening the gulf between them and Japan. The Japanese press is practically unanimous in condemning the official attitude, and the bitterness exhibited in some of the editorials nonplussed even the governmental delegates when the copies were shown to them by their colleagues from Chita. The following few extracts from an editorial of the "Yomiuri", a liberal-minded paper with a wide circulation, will sum up the whole situation in a few lines. The "Yomiuri" says:—

"So far as the Japanese Government and the Imperial army are concerned, the Siberian question is a labyrinth. They struck a fast friendship with each other in the maze in which they were led astray, but a strange thing is that one is intending to emerge out of it by one way and the other is taking an opposite path. They have been repeating this contradiction since the expedition went to Siberia.

"Double diplomacy, to wit—that of the almighty military clique and the incompetent diplomats—has reigned supreme throughout the history of the expedition. Even the Government shakes like an aspen leaf before the Imperial army. The awkward position in which the Government and army find themselves is of their own making. They have finally come to deadlock. The withdrawal question became more complicated after the Nikolaievsk massacre and the Dairen parley aggravated the riddle. The military authorities were highly indignant at the public antagonism and without admitting their own past faults laid the blame of the expedition and other Siberian questions at the doors of the diplomatic authorities of the Government.

"Interests conflicted with each other at the Dairen Conference, which has finally ended in a fiasco. The withdrawal of the Japanese troops was the key to unlock the mystery of Siberian problems, thereby making a compromise between the Red and White guards and settling the problem of the disposing of munitions held in custody at Vladivostok. We cannot understand why the Foreign Office put the cart before the horse by first negotiating the commercial treaty in spite of the frequent declarations of withdrawal made by the Government, apart from the real intention of the military clique in regard to the expedition. Thus the Dairen Conference ended in failure as anticipated. The Japanese Government is intending to confuse the case by putting the blame or failure to the lack of sincerity on Chita's part. But we do not think this is right because tactics and manipulation are the only weapons of diplomacy left to the weak. The fact that the Russian delegates at Genoa drew a line between the Moscow and Chita Governments exposed the failure of Japan's policy towards Siberia."

The Chinese Civil Strife.

The history of China, since the establishment of a republican form of Government, has been one of continued civil strife among its numerous war lords. The various Governments that came into power have loaded the country with a heavy burden of debts and inflated military forces. It is clearly evident even to the naked eye that foreign gold is largely responsible for the disruptive influences that have torn the great Empire into pieces. A gigantic game of international intrigues is being played at Peking which is now the hot bed of intrigues and abominable plots.

By a sad twist of fate, China is fast gravitating towards another political crisis of the first magnitude, and, with the Cabinet question as the apple of discord, the Mukden and the Chihli factions are heading the country towards a titanic struggle. The wires are kept busy, and a telegraphic campaign which is one of the special features of Chinese politics is in full swing. Circular telegrams that are being despatched throughout the length and breadth of the country by the hostile parties as well as by the provincial Governors and the President's office at Peking, are so numerous that they have lost all their charms to the foreign observers. Marshal Chang Tso-in, the ex-bandit leader and the living embodiment of militarism is being joined by Dr. Sun Yat-sen of Canton, the foremost Chinese advocate of constitutional Government, and they have the tacit approval of Japan in their so-called unification plans; while General Wu Pei-fu of the Chihli party is being backed by America and England. The concentration of troops on both sides is complete, but despite reports of a few skirmishes in some unimportant points, the real war though not yet begun may rather be brought to a successful end through telegrams rather than the use of machine-guns. It is a singular coincidence that the present conflict occurs simultaneously with the Japanese evacuation of Shantung, thus clearing the way for any of the fighting armies to overrun the province and provide a longed-for opportunity to the Japanese militarists to proclaim to the world the utter inability of the Chinese to handle the administrative affairs of Shantung.

President Hsu Shih-chang is suspected of secret sympathies with the Chihli party, hence his efforts at mediation have met with failure. The poor President is trembling with fear as the Mukden armies draw nearer to Peking and is reported to be ready to take refuge in one of the Foreign Legations, thus becoming the third President in the 11 years of republican regime in China to beat a ignominous retreat under the pressure of military leaders. Notwithstanding the concentration of forces at points of vantage, both the factions are seeking plausible reasons to justify the strife and have their motives for war genuinely accepted at home and abroad, especially if the Chief Magistrate of the nation is made a fugitive and a suppliant for help for the protection of his life at the hands of foreigners.

Civil war in China continues to be a lucrative profession for many of the politicians and it is a pity that by frequent deviations from the path of rectitude, the Chinese statesmen have complicated the lot of their people. As is the case in China, the present differences will temporarily be patched up by raising loans and then dividing the proceeds among the powerful parties. It is hard to predict whether Wu Pei-fu will remain on the saddle or Chang Tso-lin will have the stick in his hands for the next few months, but there is no denying the fact that for the teeming millions of China both are parasites thriving on the very blood of the nation. Their barbarous antagonism against one another and the shedding of innocent blood to achieve their own selfish ends, are simply adding to the tortures of the Chinese people.

The Economic Situation.

Japanese business circles are now in the grips of a great economic depression and the balance of trade continues to be against the country with unabated vigour. The crash which came after the armistice though dislocating the industries to a large extent, greatly purified the economic circles by eliminating the objectionable elements and giving a word of warning to the Banks for their wreckless manner of financing the questionable parties. In spite of the Government help so generously extended every now and then, and the efficiently organised banking system, the things did not improve more than averting a real debacle. The present situation is one of great pessimism and nothing but natural economic factors can remedy. The bankruptcy of a well-known speculator in Osaka whose losses run into many millions of Yen and involve quite a large number of banks, has heightened the seriousness of the situation. A state of nervousness that prevails in the commercial world has frightened the Government and the Bank of Japan, the latter holding special meetings of the syndicate banks at Tokyo and Osaka to discuss the danger that confronts the nation.

The excess of imports over exports during the first three months of the year is estimated to be between Yen 270,000,000 and Yen 280,000,000. Much of the present tension is a direct result of the speculative fever that caught the imagination of the people during and immediately after the war when the economic boom had flooded Japan with enormous amounts of gold and unprecedented prosperity, never before witnessed in the economic history of the country. Added to this is the cultivation of a get-rich-quick tendency among the manufacturers who dumped their inferior goods on the markets of the world quite oblivious of reaction that was bound to come in course of time, and impaired the reputation of their country abroad.

The non-co-operation movement in India is also adding its quota to the present depression as a result of which 50 per cent. of the Indian firms in Japan have closed their offices and as the rumours have it many others are seriously considering to follow suit. Japanese manufacturers interested in Indian trade are also the most hardly hit by the present business depression.

Viscount Takahashi, the Premier and Finance Minister, in the course of an interview to the Osaka Mainich says, "The financial depression is a regrettable matter, indeed, but, if relief were sought in Governmental measures alone, it cannot be obtained as there is no almighty panacea for the financial ills." The learned Viscount though firmly convinced that financial relief was sure to come by the end of the year, assured the Mainichi representative that retrenchment wherever possible will be effected in no distant future, and that the Government was seriously considering to undertake an administrative readjustment in such a way as to reform the organisation of administrative machinery and at the same time to increase the efficiency of the services.

ANTI-INDIAN PROPAGANDA.

A KENYA MAJOR'S MISREPRESENTATIONS.

COCK AND BULL STORIES ABOUT INDIA.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

MOMBASA, May 23.

As everybody knows propaganda is of two kinds. True propaganda and false propaganda. What a pity that certain class of men in order to save themselves from the terrible verdict of the world, unsuccessfully take to systematic lying. Some of the European settlers in this ill-fated country, finding that they are called inexorable obstructionists in regard to the Indian problem here, in order to justify anyhow their attitude, which, every sane man, who has the welfare of the Empire at heart is sure to condemn, have taken to a novel method of propaganda—that of abusing Indians in India.

One Major Macdonald—an obscure settler of Nakuree—a mile or two from the place where Mr. Andrews was assaulted and treated in a manner which would make even the worst barbarian to blush and hang down his head in shame—most probably financed by that self-styled People's Parliament—I mean the Convention of Associations, is touring the country and spreading news about India where, according to his own confession, he had been for his own selfish purpose, nobody knows what. He went there in December 1921 and came back in April, 1922. From his short stay in India he pretends to have an intimate knowledge of the Indian situation and he wants to apply some of the extraordinary notions he has formed to the solution of Indian problem of this country. He is appealing to the Europeans of this country to resist by whatever means in their power, the granting of equality of status, and the reason for this appeal is that he in India saw with his own eyes the hate towards Europeans depicted on the faces of Indians. It is worthwhile, if for no other purpose, at least to see the absurdity of his observations about the present movement—the depth of which it is not possible for an alien Britisher, with his even fifty years' experience of the people of India, to gauge to quote his own words: "On landing in December after the Prince had landed and gone on, I was struck by the extraordinarily large percentage of Indians in whose faces was written nothing more or less than hate—from the lowest to the highest—in some it was well concealed, in others ill concealed." Maj. Macdonald seems to be an expert physiognomist! He further says "In the streets one was jostled and bumped and deliberately separated from other people. Formerly Indians were a subject race. Now little things of this sort show that the tide has turned."

"BLOOD-THIRSTY HOUNDS."

Maj. Macdonald paints India for the Europeans here as a country abounding in blood-thirsty hounds. He says "India is not now a fit place for white ladies to live in.

I found it impossible to let my wife go out unaccompanied, where 18 months ago white women would have been quite all right. In the bazar my wife was spat on. In the museum in Calcutta a lady visitor was spat on by an Indian chewing betel leaves. A lady driving a car was turned back only a few yards from the main street of Calcutta while going to the market, by a Police Sergeant, who told her that no woman would be allowed to go there that day unless a white man was with her and that man armed." (It is strange that Reuter takes exceptional care to cable here that India is absolutely calm and Gandhi's influence is on the wane.) Perhaps, the Major wanted to play upon the chivalrous feelings of Englishmen assembled there to hear him. One cannot help being sorry when Europeans and Anglo-Indians, like Don Quixote, worry themselves regarding a danger which does not exist. Major Macdonald would not let Indians have equality, because then there would be none whom he could call a member of subject race. He lectured for about an hour and last no chance of abusing India and Indians. But the concluding portion of his speech, makes clear the mentality of settlers and which is "It is your duty to put the Indians exactly where you want them in a position of usefulness." In other words, keep them as slaves. By the grace of Almighty and ceaseless efforts of Mahatma Gandhi the Indians have shaken off their slave-mentality and has dared to look full into the face of Europeans who stand aghast at the boldness of people who were till recently their dependents.

After his speech the following resolution was unanimously passed:—

"That this public meeting of the European community of Nairobi, warned by the state of sedition and licence which an inappropriate policy has brought about in India, by the straits to which their fellow-country men and women and the loyal natives are thereby reduced, registers its determination to oppose the imposition on this country any policy which does not contain sure safe-guards against the possibility of the Europeans and African peoples of this country suffering a like fate to that of these peoples."

The fallacy of the contents of the above resolution is so obvious that to try to show that will be to waste time and energy. Major Grogan, Lord Delamere and Mr. C. Kenneth Archer seconded the motion as a matter of course.

MAJOR GROGAN'S THREAT.

While proposing a vote of thanks to the speaker, Major Grogan boasted of his feat of convincing Mr. Sastri about the importance of white race in Kenya. While narrating his interview with Mr. Sastri in London, he said, "On the other hand, assuming you could liminate the ten-thousand of our own race, I assume there would be a rapid increase in the passenger trains on Uganda Railway, a terrible slackness will take place and in six months East Africa would have reverted to its primeval savagery." Then I said "considering this to be a fact, and we both come from that part of the world—and you (Mr. Sastri) as a man of the world knowing that to be a fact—what is the use of talking about equality of races. Any one single member of your race going down to the Massai Reserve, without the assistance of some young A. D. C. fresh from Home, would be speared and held aloft like a wincle on a pin." Mr. Sastri, as Mr. Grogan informed his audience "could not put up any serious contention—it was quite obvious that he agreed."

Major Gragan as is his practice-starts on wrong data. Nobody wants to eliminate the boasted ten-thousand of his race. Indians have declared times without number that they do not want supremacy. As regards his remarks regarding the attitude of natives, I must say that it is absolutely friendly. But the irony of fate is that the race that has disarmed Indians and as made them dependent for the defence of their wives and children, calls its victims cowards. No wonder that natives, who might, naturally, be expected to be believers in physical force and violence seeing Indians undefended, without arms, and treated as worse than themselves, will have no respect for Indians as far as their physical power is concerned. Major Gragan calls himself a very reasonable man. His reasonableness is clearly seen in the following sentence. "That if at any particular moment the situation arises, just as a handful of people debied the whole Indian population at the time of Mutiny, so the handful of people here will defy the Indian political control of any part of Africa." If any Indian would have spoken in this manner, he would have been deported by the Government. But nothing can be done as the speaker belongs to a heaven—born race and addressees Indians. I hope the Government of India and our puppets in the Councils, will see that the situation is critical. If they but move in the right direction without showing their characteristic weakness at the critical moment, there is every chance of coming to an equitable settlement and putting a stop to the orgie of race-hatred, which undermines the very foundation on which the Empire is built.

MUNICIPAL REPRESENTATION.

The question of Indian representation on municipalities, was brought before the Nairobi Municipality by his Excellency the Governor, who took particular care to inform the European city fathers that representations on Municipal Council will in no way alter the political status of Indians. While forwarding this letter of the Governor, the Town clerk added that Municipal question was also an essentially political question. It was not possible for them to allow equal Municipal representation as in that case the town will not be kept up to the standard put forward by Prof. Simpson. But the Town clerk was gracious enough to say that there was no harm in having two Indians nominated by the Government, because "Government is much more likely to select good men than the Indian community themselves in their present immature stage." Really the Town Clerk has scaled the height of absurdity in suggesting to the Government, regarding municipal representations in the manner above described. It was decided to shelve the question until Major question of political states of Indians was settled.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

The Governor has called a special session of the Legislative Council, where, it is rumoured that, further increase in duty on liqueurs is to be considered. It is likely that certain suggestions of the economic and finance committee, such as, the increase in duty on imported wheat, flour, timber etc., will be given effect to.

I understand that a weekly journal named "Kenya Chronicle" is going to be published in Mombasa from Sunday, the 28th instant. It is no doubt a laudable enterprise and ought to be a success.

FRONTIER COMMITTEE.

SIR J. MAYNARD'S EVIDENCE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

SIMLA, June 8.

Sir John Maynard giving evidence before the Frontier Committee, to-day, on behalf of the Punjab Government excluding the Ministers, said that his Government was not keen in shouldering the burden of administration of the North-west Frontier Provinces, but if the Government of India so decided, they would undertake the task, provided the whole of the Frontier, including the political Agencies, were transferred and not merely the five settled districts, because it was impossible and inadvisable to separate these two tracts. As regards the transfer of the judiciary, the Punjab Government were virtually neutral their only objection to it being financial difficulty and the possibility of hanging to an inferior subordinate staff. The Committee will examine Lala Harikishan Lal tomorrow.

BURMA REFORMS,

'MOVEMENT TOWARDS ACCEPTANCE STEADILY INCREASES."

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

RANGOON, June 8.

The movement towards the acceptance of Burma Reforms as indicated by the Press opinion steadily increase, one paper hitherto opposed to Dyarchy suggesting the acceptance under protest.

The Rangoon Municipality passed, with two dissentients, resolutions protesting against the local Government's letter sanctioning the budget to Municipal finance as savouring more of the methods of Micawber than of financial experts. The proposer said that the local Government narrowly escaped being pockmillian.

MOPLAH PROSECUTION.

DIST. MAGISTRATE GRANTED SUPERIOR POWERS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

MADRAS, June 8.

The following Government order has been issued: Having regard to the large number of prosecutions which it is necessary to institute against Moplahs in Ernad, Walluwanad and a part of Ponnani Taluks in connection with the rebellion and, more particularly, to the scheme under which sentences of imprisonment will be suspended on conditions of good behaviour and payment of fine, in the case of accused whom it is not thought necessary to remove from their Amsoms, the Government consider it desirable that the District Magistrate of Malabar should be represented in the rebellion area. The Senior Magistrate, Mr. McGilligan, has already been appointed as additional District Magistrate, with powers extending over the whole district. It appears to Government that Mr. McGilligan's attention should, as far as possible, be concentrated upon the rebellion area so that he may be in a position, under the powers which he exercises as District Magistrate, to supervise and control prosecutions. The District Magistrate is requested to make arrangements accordingly. Mr. McGilligan will not supersede the local divisional officers, but his superior powers will give him greater authority than the Divisional Officers enjoys. Mr. McGilligan's duties, in this respect need not interfere with the arrangement which it is understood he has been specially charged with supervision of work of reconstruction.

MALABAR RELIEF.

MR. DEVADHAR'S INTERVIEW WITH MR. KNAPP.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

OOTACAMUND, June 8.

Messrs. Devadhar and Dravid of the Servants of India Society, who arrived here from Malabar, had an interview with the Hon. Mr. Knapp. The interview lasted for about two hours, and Mr. Devadhar discussed the situation as observed by him and Mr. Dravid during their recent tour in the interior where the existence of suffering of various kinds were noted. There was substantial agreement between the official view and that of Mr. Devadhar's Committee in alleviating the sufferings of both the Hindus and Moplas, and a clear understanding was arrived at as to the forms of relief granted by Government and their further expansion and the supplementary relief given by charitable agencies which will work in harmony and co-ordination with Government relief. Other matters discussed were larger loans by Government, efforts to induce Jenmies and the need of providing employment. Among other subjects that were discussed some related to the reconstruction such as the starting of mixed schools for Hindus and Moplas, readmission of forcibly-converted Hindus, the expansion of co-operative societies and the usefulness of landholders in order to facilitate the employment of people without work. It is estimated the Government loans may go up to ten lakhs.

MADRAS, June 8.

The Government's review of the administration report of the Madras Corporation for the year 1920-21 shows that the number of pupils in Corporation Schools on 31st March 1921 was 4622 against 4155 on the same date in the previous year. Admission continued to be free and open to the children of all castes and communities. The number of pupils from backward classes rose from 2080 to 2405. It is interesting to note that the Corporation has resolved to provid destitute children with tiffin or mid-day meal with a view to improving the strength and regularity in attendance in the schools largely attended by backward classes. Tailoring, woodwork and tape weaving were also introduced in some of the Corporation schools, The Corporation is requested seriously to consider the question of introducing compulsory education in the city.

DACOITIES NEAR AHMEDABAD.

KATHWADA VILLAGERS' PLUCK.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

AHMEDABAD, June 9.

Two dacoities are recently reported in villages near Ahmedabad. In Valad about 25 men appeared with lathies, swords, etc, at about 7 p.m. and took away cash and other articles worth about Rs. 5,000 after severely beating several persons.

In Kathwada, when about 30 dacoits appeared at about 9 p. m. with lathies and dharias, the whole village gathered together and drove them away. The dacoits however, could not decamp with any valuables.

A Rangoon message of June 8th says the American Consul-General Charles Eberhardt, who is making world inspection tour, left for England by the "Oxfordshire" to-day, having arrived on Tuesday from Singapore.

FINANCE.

Government has discontinued selling treasury bills since Tuesday and this has eased the money market. Call loans were offered round 4½ per cent and it looks as if we shall see easier money for a few months. These conditions generally precede the issue of a new loan by the Government and should they offer it at reasonable interest, we have no doubt, the response from the public for the loan would be as great as it was last year. The huge debt against treasury bills is very embarrassing to the Government and it would be to theirs as well as to the country's interest to borrow long money and pay off as far as possible treasury bills.

Exchange dropped from 1/3 5/8 to 1/3 7/ but improved on favourable advices from Calcutta and closes steady at 1/3 9/16. Export bills were offering in Calcutta at the lower level, and it is possible that Yen bills may be offering later on in Bombay.

Gold was steady round Rs. 27/1 with good demand for ready lots. The off-take was on an average of about 30,000 tolas a day and the stock is about four lacs tolas. Heavy arrivals are expected during next week. The rate in London has declined from 92 s 11 d to 92 s 6 d in consequence of American Exchange on London having improved from dol. 4.46 to dol. 4.50½.

Silver opened easy on China selling, but improved and closed steady at Rs. 96/8 for ready and first settlement and Rs. 94/6 for second settlement. On account of the shortage of silver bars, following the loss of about £2,60,000 on the s.s. "Egypt", the bulls are engineering a corner for June settlement. The off-take is about 75 bars a day, mostly country bars, as the rate for these is about Rs. 94 per 100 tolas. The stock is estimated at about 1700 bars.

The Shanghai/London rate was 3/6 per tael. Hongkong/London 2/6½ per dollar.

SHARES.

The market continued steady to firm this week with a rise in cotton mill shares. The chief rise noticeable was in Currims, Davids, Pearls and Simplexs. It is reported that the bulls have turned their attention to these scrips for the time being and Bear sales are still heavy. The monsoon holds off in spite of the official announcement that it did burst early June. This is a source of anxiety to some, although it is too early to bother about it just as yet. The bull operators are still strong on the market and when rains commence, they anticipate a general rise in all mill shares. The future trend of the market depends largely on the course of the monsoon.

In the miscellaneous market, Tata Steel deferreds were firm, more on sentiment than real causes, the closing rates being Rs. 295. Bank shares were steady, Imperial Banks at about Rs. 1420 and Tata Banks at Rs. 17. Trams were steady round Rs. 132/8.

The following are the closing rates of the 7th instant.

Market closed quiet with small business.

SUGAR MARKET.

June 9.

So far as ready Sugar is concerned our market ruled steady during the week with fair demand and prices remain unchanged. HOME MARKETS.

During the week under review the Home Markets have been fluctuating but on the whole have displayed a moderate decline in Liverpool Markets and a sharp advance in New York Markets. The advance of 82 points in New York Markets on the 7th instant seems to have been due to renewed unfavourable weather reports and heavy rains in the South. If the weather there continues bad for the growing crop it is quite possible that the advance may go a good deal further yet. The recent decline in our markets was due mainly to heavy selling by prominent Bear Operators, and general Bearish feeling in the Bazar with want of buying power. Prices here are now on a relatively low level, and we think the time may come shortly when we may see a complete change of sentiment in the Bazar in which case prices are likely to advance.

The following were the changes in the Home Markets as compared with last week:—
Liverpool July 11.59 11.69—30.
Liverpool October 11.68 11.42—26.
Liverpool January 11.42 11.18—24.
New York July 20.65 21.20 plus 55.
New York October 20.25 21.22 plus 97.
New York January 19.81 21.02 plus 121.

LOCAL FORWARD MARKETS.

CALCUTTA SHARE MARKET,

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CALCUTTA, June 8.

In response to a stronger hessian market jute shares opened firm and a large volume of business was put through in Howrah and Clive principally at advanced rates. The heavy priced stocks also appreciated in proportion and with some fluctuations the tone of the market was quite healthy. Cottons were overshadowed by the attention of operators directed to jute and though rates were steady a small turn over only resulted. Coals continue in a fair demand at steady prices and if only sellers were free to the extent of the buyers' requirements an expansion of trade would soon take place in this section. There was nothing important to note in miscellaneous and industrials. Imperial banks were steady with war loans not so freely offering and 3½ per cent paper rather better. The following were the closing quotations:—

The Government securities:—3½ per cent Government paper 58-14.

CALCUTTA, June 9.

The jute shares opened quite firm and rates for Howrah and Clive were quickly sent up to 50 and 44 respectively with some of the heavy priced stocks sharing in the rise to a proportionate extent. Later on, however, on profit taking both Howrah and Clive lost a couple of points with other stocks also weaker, but on the whole an optimistic feeling prevailed. Cotton did not exhibit any particular activity and prices in all instances disclosed little variation. Coals maintained their position with a few concerns noting some advances while miscellaneous and industrials only came in for dealings of a retail nature. The Government securities were practically unchanged in values. The following were the closing quotations:—

GUARD AGAINST SKIN PERILS!

ZAM-BUK KILLS GERM TROUBLE AND PREVENTS PAINFUL SORES.

The worst cases of eczema, Delhi, sores, ringworm and other disfiguring skin disease often spring from the simplest cause. May be the danger signal is just a little patch of irritation on the arm, thigh or chest, or a tiny pimple on the face or scalp. In the same way trivial cuts, bruises, bites or stings are liable to fester and become poisoned unless treated with antiseptic Zam-Buk.

This germ-infection peril is a peril to guard your skin against at all times, for whenever the skin is out of condition—broken by injury or chafed and burnt by the sun—invisible disease-spreading germs quickly find their way into the raw tissues and provoke suppuration and itching inflammatory disease.

To escape these ever-present perils, keep a box of Zam-Buk always handy. Zam-Buk is a precious balm, famous alike for its antiseptic strength and marvellous healing power, its purity and unique character. At the same time as it allays the smarting pain and irritation of a cut, burn, scald, wound or sore, Zam-Buk exterminates disease germs and thoroughly cleanses the tissues of poisonous impurities. Thus dangerous complications are ended and speedy healthy healing assured.

Zam-Buk is a pure, highly-refined balm, scientifically prepared from rich herbal oils and essences. Zam-Buk contains no trace of animal fat, nor any of those poisonous mineral drugs which make crude salves and ointments harmful and positively dangerous in many skin troubles. Zam-Buk provides the ideal first-aid for cuts, wounds, bites, stings, burns and scalds; and the soothing speedy cure for eczema, Delhi sores, itch, ringworm, bad legs, ulcars, foot sores, abscesses, piles, scalp sores, poisoned wounds and all irritable or inflamed conditions of the skin. Never be without this magical Zam-Buk.

Obtainable of all chemists, stores and bazaars, price Re. 1 or Rs. 2-4 per box. Postpaid Rs. 1-4 or Rs. 2-8 from The Zam-Buk Co's. Agents—Smith Stanistreet & Co., CALCUTTA; Glen & Co., BOMBAY. KARACHI and MADRAS; The Apothecaries Co., COLUMBO or E. M. de Souza & Co., RANGOON.

Opinions of the Day.

"Honours."

"Indian Daily News":—The Honours List is a sort of annual absurdity, a relic of the Sir Robert Walpole days when everyone had his price. The public, however, will note with satisfaction that the Chief of the Bugti tribe has been made a C.S.I., and that a Calcutta motor-car seller has been made a Knight. We are particularly gratified in the recognition of the Chief of Budgti who apparently does not keep a press agent, and no one ever heard of him. The Honour bestowed on a motor-car dealer is no doubt a delicate solatium to the motor trade which is in such depressed circumstances just now. It is no doubt, a slight recognition of the hardship of the thirty per cent. duty. We hope the trade will take it in that spirit.

Officials Can Do No Wrong!

"The Tribune."—Who says that we are not advancing? Formerly it was only the King who could do no wrong, and he could not do it, because he was supposed not to do anything except on the advice of his ministers who were solely responsible for his actions. To-day no official of whatever rank can do wrong, and this in spite of the fact that officials, unlike the King, can and do act only on their responsibility. If any one doubts it, let him read his daily paper with its daily growing lists of complaints against officials on the one hand, and the official notice which these complaints receive on the other. In our own Province, for instance, we do not remember any single copy of a single newspaper that has any pretence to a popular or representative character during the last five months or so in which column after column has not appeared either editorially or from correspondents drawing attention to the misdoings of a class of officials. To discourage men from making exaggerated or frivolous complaints against officers of Government may be a good thing, but when the method adopted for the purpose is calculated to discourage all complaints whatever, to create the impression either that officials can do no wrong or that it is absolutely useless to complain of wrong-doing on their part, the only party that suffers ultimately is the administration itself, which eventually breaks down under the weight of unredressed grievances, of wrongs made bolder by the immunity they enjoy. And are not things bad enough already in this respect? It was no irresponsible critic belonging to the extremist party, but the most trusted of the Government's present-day Counsellors who told it the other day in language, to the force or the solemnity of which it is impossible to add, that there had never been a period in our history when there was such a total wreck of hope and faith in the administration of the day. It is for our high officials, both in this Province and elsewhere, to ask themselves how much of this result they have earned for themselves by their recent method of dealing with allegations against their subordinates.

Mr. Sastri's Forerunner.

"Service".—Dr. Besant is reported to have stated in one of her lectures in Australia concerning the work of the Reforms: "Our Press is now free. Our people can speak and argue freely. there is freedom in India which is carried further than you would allow here." It is a pity that she did not illustrate that statement by giving figures. The British Jails in India now contain more editors than at any time and as to freedom of speech, what do the 25,000 political prisoners indicate? Any way she is preparing the ground for the Rt. Hon. Sastry.

The Real Issue.

"Amrita Bazar Patrika".—Is the British Government prepared to trust India so far as to allow the army to be Indianised with a single eye to the good of India and take effective and earnest steps to bring about that end? If it is not prepared to do so, what is the use of the Inchcape or any Committee? In the absence of genuine efforts to eliminate the British element in the army, what will people think of the Inchcape Committee? Committees and Commissions have unfortunately for this country covered many sins of ommission and commission. What tangible evidence there is before the people that this particular Committee will not end like many of its predecessors? Many on the other hand, are afraid, that the Committee will leave untouched the main cause of bankruptcy and concern itself with matters of relatively minor importance, in other words, it will strain at a gnat and swallow a camel. We already find indications of such economy in the variors departments of Government. The poor ill-paid employees are sought to be got rid of, but the ones holding fat and superfluous berths sit tight where they are. If such is the policy followed in the civil administration what can one expect when the question relates to the army? The army is a very touchy subject, we know. It is sacrosanct. The expenditure on it is sacrosanct. The discussion on it is blasphemy. Even the Legislative Assembly is considered too profane a body to take military expenditure into consideration. The The law-officers of England have advised so and Lord Reading who told the Deputation of the Associated Chambers of Commerce that he would "reserve nothing" from the Inchcape Committee reserved it from consideration by the Assembly.

MOTHER SEIGEL'S SYRUP

the favourite family remedy for indigestion in countless British homes, has a fifty years' record of success, which is not approached by any other stomach and liver tonic! Times without number it has banished digestive disorders, biliousness, headaches and constipation, after other medicines have been tried in vain; it has given healthy appetite to those who have had no appetite before, and it has also given good health to thousands upon thousands of former sufferers.

THE FAVOURITE FAMILY REMEDY

"As a user of this well-known remedy for many years, I feel qualified to give an opinion, and can conscientiously recommend its use to anyone suffering from Indigestion. Previous to using it, I suffered considerably from this distressing ailment, for which I tried many prescriptions, and, while some of them gave temporary relief, none could compare with the effective and speedy relief experienced after a few doses of Mother Seigel's Syrup. Having derived such great benefit from its use, there is no wonder that I always speak of it in the highest terms. I am seldom without it, as I find a steady dose an excellent preventative of digestive disorders." Mr. A. T. Wishart, of 15, Perkins Street, Port Elizabeth.

JAMSHEDPUR LABOURERS.

THEIR DEMANDS.

The Joint Secretary of the Labour Association Jamshedpur writes under date June 2:—

There were three mass meetings of the labourers of Jamshedpur held in the G, L. and old N. Towns on 19th May, 23rd May and 1st June respectively. These meetings were attended by more than a thousand labourers. The present situation of their last demands, given below, was explained to the labourers, who were all very eager for them. The impatience of the labourers, to get their demands fulfilled was noticeable in each of these meetings. The labourers urged their Association to press hard for the redress of their grievances, as theirs was not a demand for increase.

In the last meeting, the Association regretted that the Labour Advisory Board was not working satisfactorily, having had no sittings for quite a long time and that the Management was not fully co-operating with the Advisory Board by promptly furnishing all necessary records. The Organising Scretary Mr. Sachindra Nath Sanyal announced that he would devote the whole of his life in organising Indian Labour and improving their condition and that he would henceforth work "Honorary"; it was also announced that he has been appointed by the Association to represent this Association in all Labour Federations etc. The opening of the Death Benefit Fund was announced and its rules explained.

GOVERNMENT OPINION.

My visit to the Bengal Paste Board and paper Mills Ltd., has given me real pleasure. The factory has made a small beginning, but it has been conceived and laid but on sound lines. It has already commenced regular production as a n earnest of its furhter development. Additional machines and a ontinuous muffle drying oven will largely increase the capacity of the factory. The product has a first class appearance and should be surely bit as goodas imported material.

****

There appears to me a useful future for this factory i it is worked and developed on the same sound practical lines in which it has been started.

Opinion of Mr. B. CHAKRAVARTI.

Bar-at-law, Zeminder, Chairman, Bengal Nationl Bank & Bengal Luxmi Cotton Mills etc, etc.,

I visited the factory of Messrs. Bengal Paste and Paper Mills Ltd., on the 11th March '22 through the courtesy of Mr. S. C. Roy one of the Directors of the company. I must say I was very very agreeably surprized to see the efficiency obtained in the working of the company though entirely Indian Agency. I was told the company employs a European gentleman as its Engineer and Superviser. But this gentleman was away on leave and the work was being carried on by purely Indian Agency as I have already stated. I was extremely gratified to see the various processes being carried on with singular regularity without any hitch. The Promoters deserve well of the public for their enterprize in a new field of manufacturing activity. The company has very bright and lucrative prospect before it and ought to go on with its idea of extension and there should be no difficulty in finding the money for the purpose.
